Changing . . . Growing

The 1980 Legend is the largest in the history of Weequahic High School. At the outset, we pondered about the volume of Legend '80, realizing that Weequahic is a complex and active school. So . . . we endeavored to cover "everything" — from student life to student learning. I must say that I am honored and proud to have edited our yearbook. The experience has brought me closer to the WHS faculty and to my fellow classmates. I hope you will look back upon the Legend in the 21st Century and be able to chart your growth and be able to substantiate a continuity in your experiences.

Dedication, faith: attributes of our new principal

A WHS Student Comes Home to Lead

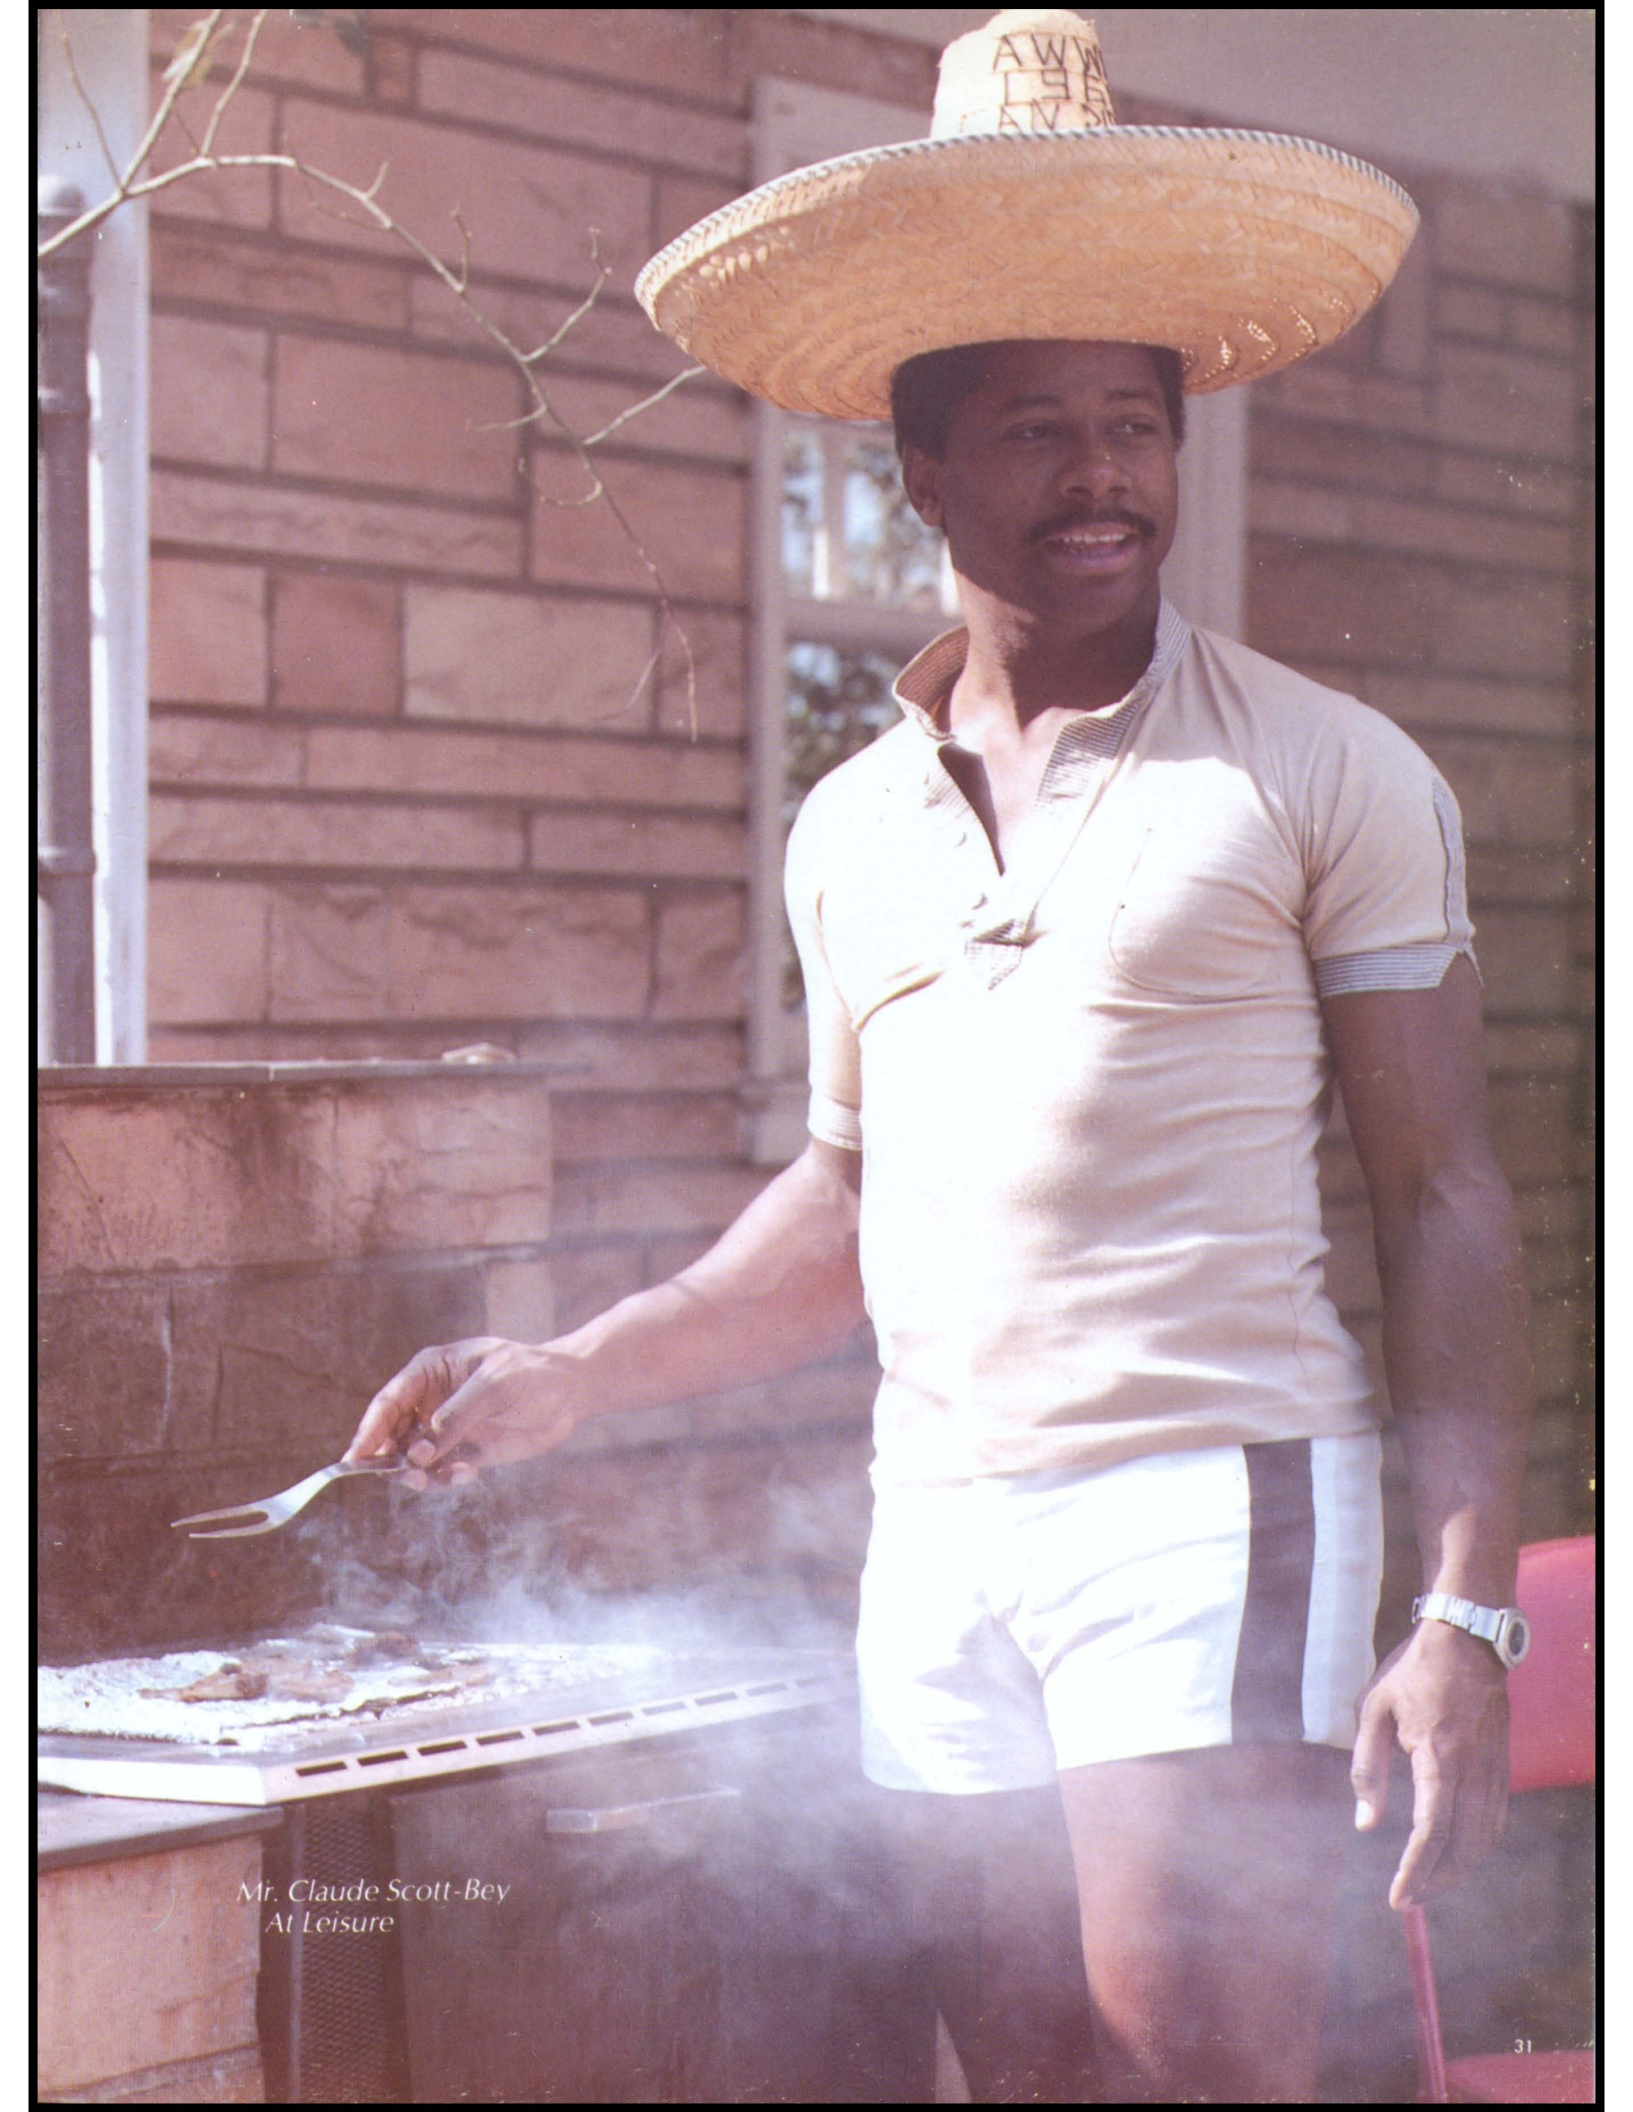

Editor's note: Rare indeed is it that a former student returns to his high school alma mater as its principal; that is exactly what Mr. Claude Bey has done, much to the delight of his former teachers at WHS. A 1963 graduate of WHS, Mr. Bey received his BA degree at Fairleigh Dickinson and his MA degree at Rutgers U. Mr. Bey first entered the Newark Public School System as a teacher of business skills at West Side where he later served as drug coordinator. Our principal entered the administrator sector as vice-principal at Central ('77-'78) and most immediately served as principal at West Kinney Jr. High School. Mr. Bey is married and he, his wife and their two-year old daughter reside in Orange, NJ.

To the class of 1980:

It is my sincere pleasure to congratulate you on yet another milestone in your lives. You are the bulwark on which our future rests. With the advent of the 80's, we see ourselves approaching the 21st century in just a matter of years. The 70's was a decade of paradoxes and controversies and we are still victims of its problems, racism, unemployment, inflation, and other social ills that are waiting to be ameliorated. "Time waits for no one" is an old adage and as young people this may not mean much to you now. That is why the administration and faculty at WHS, as well as your parents, have tried to steer you toward preparation of the future. You must be prepared. And that is just what we tried to do during your tenure at Weequahic.

Again my best wishes to all of you for a bright and productive future.

Claude S. Bey

He is wearing a light-colored, short-sleeved polo shirt and white shorts with a dark vertical stripe on the side. He is standing outdoors in front of a brick wall, holding a metal fork over a grill. Steam is rising from the grill. The man is smiling slightly and looking towards the camera. The background shows a brick wall and some bare tree branches.

At Leisure*

"When preparation meets opportunity success is sure to follow." Set your sights now on your goals, your wishes, your ambitions and never be content to rest on past achievements, but always look ahead for new worlds to conquer.

Best Wishes,
Leo Pearl
Vice Principal

The origin of the word "graduate" is Latin "gradum" meaning a step, a degree — graduation is one step on the way to your career. Even the word "commencement" means a beginning. Keep this idea in mind constantly as you strive for success in your chosen career or endeavors. Change is the only thing in life that is constant. Our knowledge of today soon grows obsolete and therefore we must constantly renew and recreate it by drinking at the well-springs of learning. I wish this class the best of luck in all its endeavors.

Morris Brinn
Vice Principal

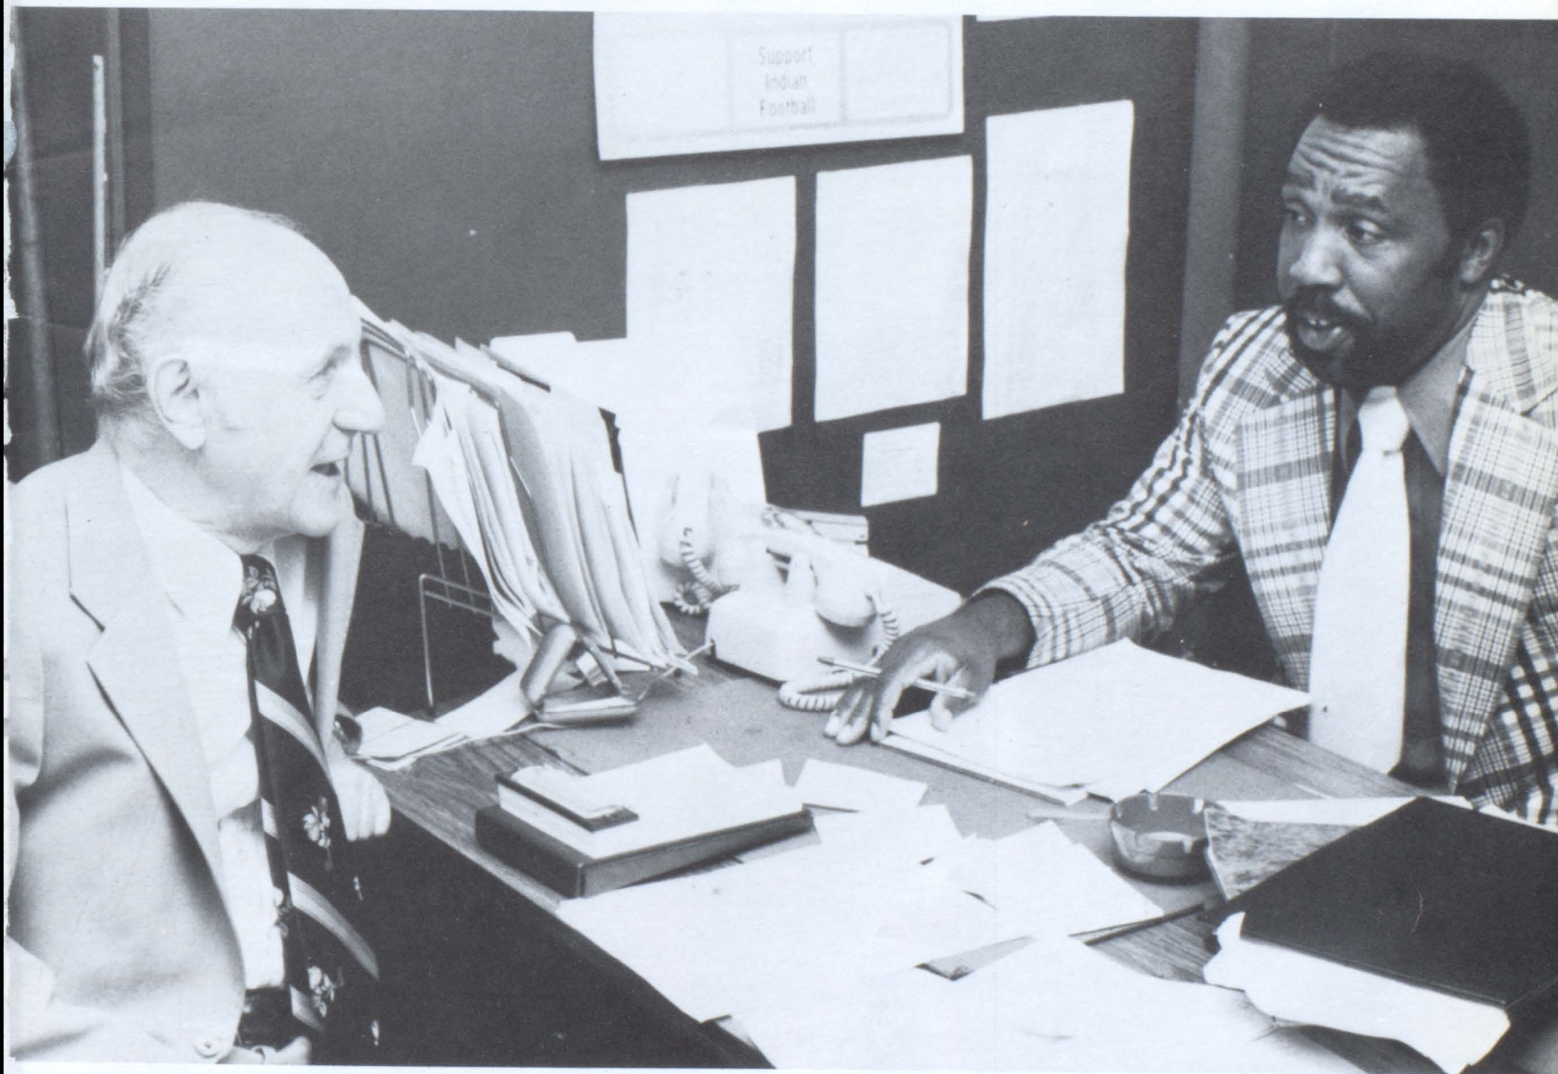

Administering Student Needs

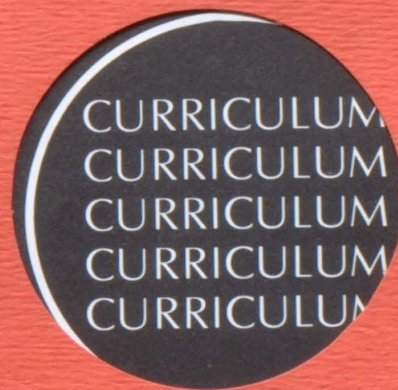

I would like to extend my well wishes and congratulations to the class of 1980. It is hoped that you will view these past four years of high school as an experience for growth — experience that will put you where you aspire to go. May the 21st century find you prepared to meet the challenge, strong enough to accept defeat, wise enough to shrug off folly, and farsighted enough to know that you must never cease to learn.

Alfredo Gentile

Take My Advice

"What courses will I need for graduation? for admission to engineering school? for prelaw?" "How do I go about pursuing my interests?" "What college is right for me?" These are just some of the concerns of students that counselors deal with daily. Scheduling, testing, arranging interviews, and taking seniors on excursions to colleges in the area are regular duties performed by our counseling staff.

Career days are planned from October to May, covering many fields from the armed forces to agriculture and music. The Guidance office is the place to go to seek advice and information on financial aid and careers.

The curriculum matters of testing, Comp. Ed., and T and E bring Mr. Daniel Feldberg (Head Counselor) and Mrs. June Dozier (English Dept. Chairperson) together often to discuss ways and means (opposite page, top)

Counseling For The Future: Small Group Conferences

Counseling for the 21st Century seems to have taken the form of small group conferences. These conferences include peer counseling, college trips, and interviews, resource persons, and career days — all in the spirit of helping students in decision-making, peer counseling skills, and value clarifications. It is the philosophy of the Guidance Department that students of all ages need more help in career planning and career decision-making. To this end WHS has established a Guidance Resource Center under a Title IV B grant of the Public Elementary and Secondary Schools Act — FY 1979. Its purpose, according to Mr. Daniel Feldberg, is to augment and upgrade the educational, career and personal guidance services provided for WHS students. The Guidance Resource Center is the depository and work resource center for student and faculty use of guidance counseling, and career textbooks, printed materials and audio-visual instructional aids. The facilities are available for individual and small group use, as well as classroom use. Teachers and students also have access to the Computerized Guidance Information Service console for occupational and college information of a wide variety, housed in the guidance office.

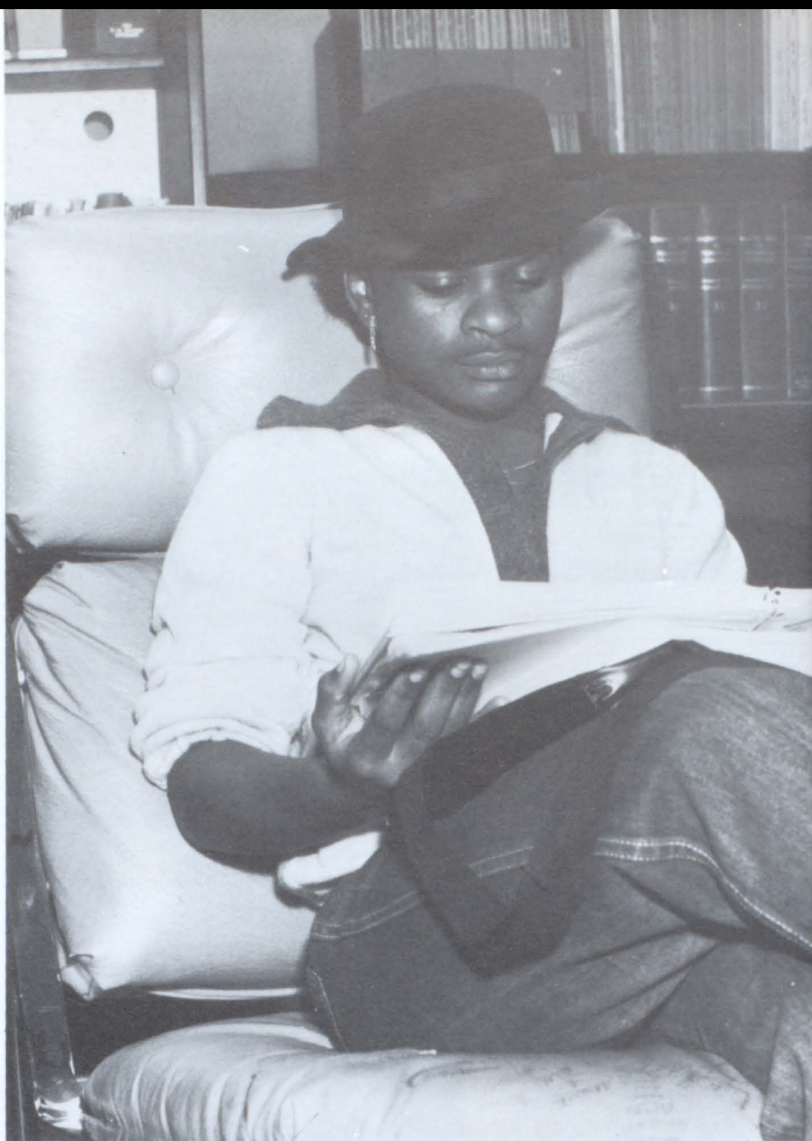

Every senior eventually finds himself doing duty at the WHS Media Center — enriching his learning. The Media Center is an integral part of a teacher's unit plan and librarians work closely with subject teachers in complementing the educational program. Books are placed on reserve for a particular class to facilitate access to materials; and librarians make it an annual affair to order books teachers recommend.

The Research Paper is a must for every senior contemplating graduation. He finds the answer to most of his investigations in WHS Media Center where volumes and volumes of books, records, periodicals, and microfilm are available for his use.

The Media Center is often used as a lecture hall, a conference room, a meeting place, an assembly auditorium, a stage, and, oftentimes, as an extra classroom. You might call the Media Center a jack-of-all-places.

It's hard to believe that the now renovated, carpeted room — just a few short years ago — served as the school's cafeteria.

The Idea Is Better Communication . . .

To be understood is the bottom line for all English courses. The number one problem, as Mrs. Dozier sees it, is communication. "Our kids have a tough time explaining themselves, speaking and understanding standard English," Mrs. Dozier explains, "To that end, English courses are geared and structured to change poor speech and writing habits — to make the student a better communicator."

This task is accomplished through multi-faceted units planned scrupulously by the department's twenty-two instructors. The department offers in addition to its regular English Courses, honors courses on every level, Journalism, Speech, Drama, and Creative Writing.

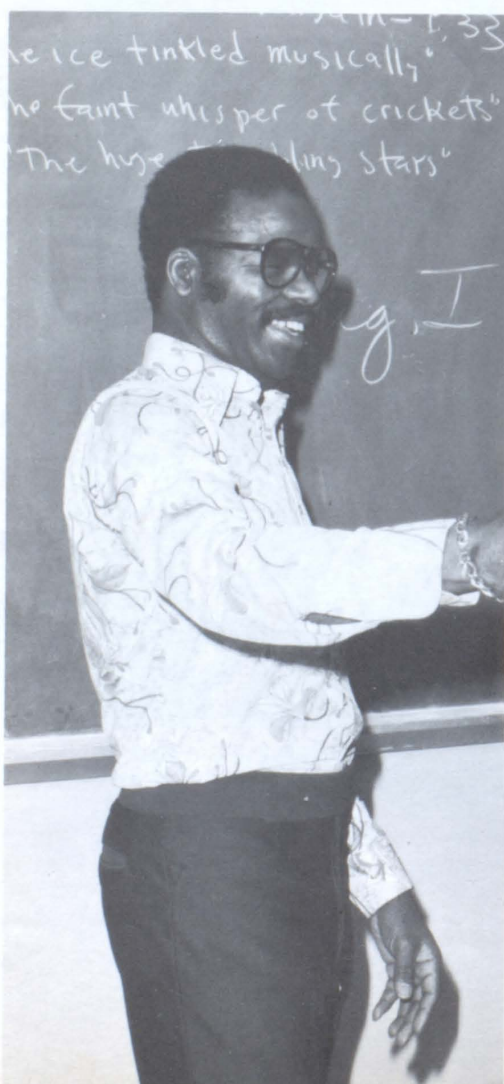

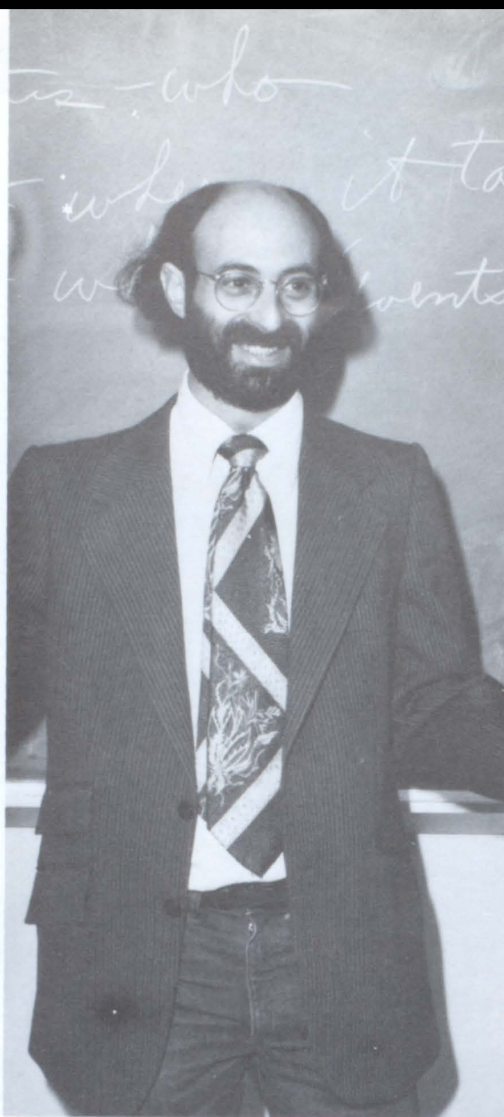

The most diversified instruction takes place on the senior level, where teachers are busy preparing students for the ruggedness of college study. The most standardized of these is the formidable research paper which every senior must complete to pass English satisfactorily. (See Curriculum Highlights for foreword on Comp. Ed.)

Comp Ed Adds Up

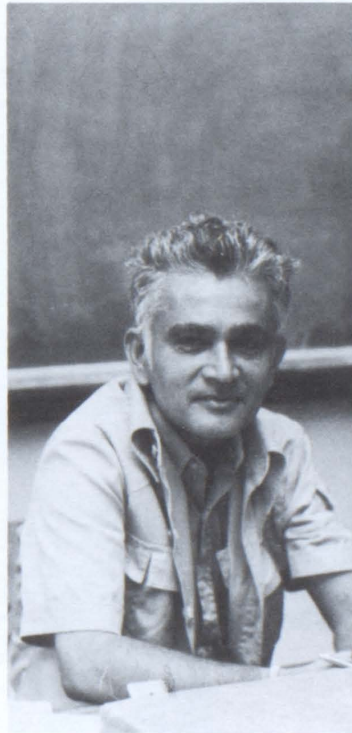

"Comp Ed" seems to be the catch-all phrase for the Mathematics and English Departments again this year. It's more than just Back-to-Basics. It's communication, records, feedback, individualized teaching, and follow-ups.

Students are still required to take a Math exam their junior year to qualify them for graduation and, if required, 11th year Review Math for those who need additional instruction.

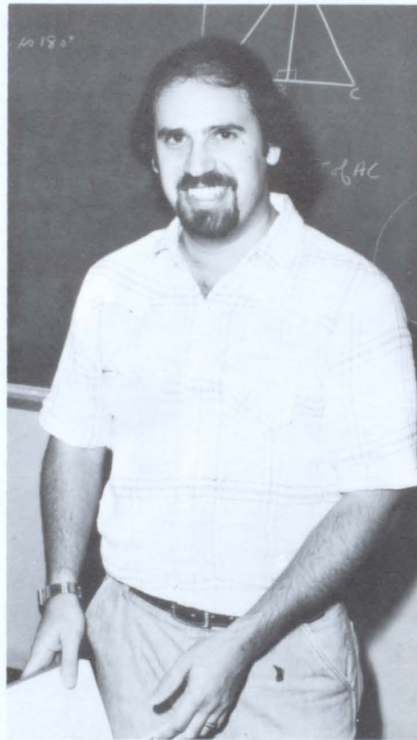

Amidst all this remedial work, courses like Advanced Placement Math (MAP), trigonometry, and geometry are still managing to survive in the curriculum. These are your basic college prep courses.

Tutoring is a vital part of the Compensatory Education program in the Math Department and usually accompanies courses like General Math and Pre-Algebra.

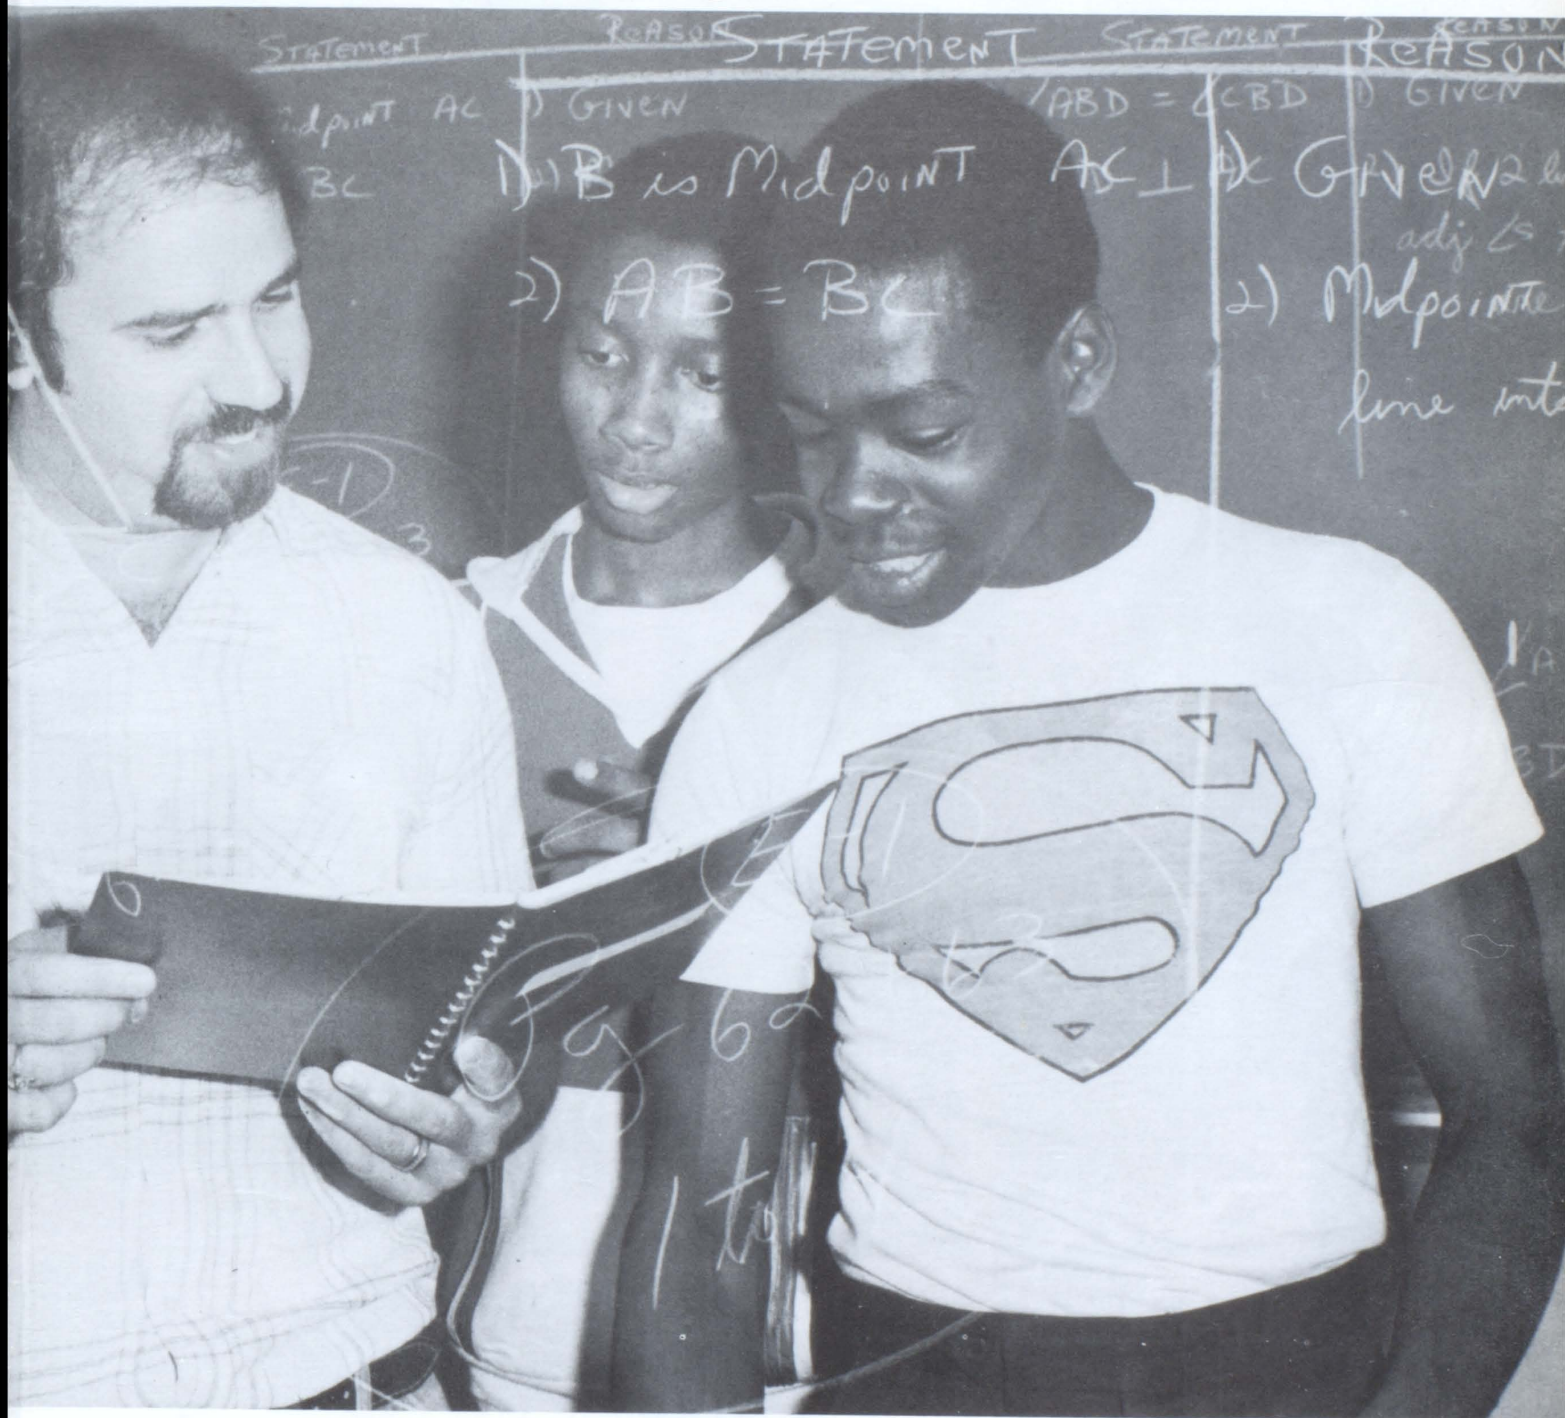

Consumer Math is a practical elective offered to grades ten through twelve. In this course, the student learns how to manage money, how to work percentages, discounts, mark-ups, mark-downs, budgeting, banking, and investing. Certainly in this age of the calculator, the study of Math is holding its own.

Business as usual in the Business Department means preparing students for the job market, 21st century and before. Many students are in the job market right now, placed with the help of the course Work Experience Orientation Division taught by Mr. Bill McGuinn (see pages 130-135). Students spend half a day on the job and half a day in school, with Mr. McGuinn supervising their movements. This program operates under the heading of "Co-Ed A.M./P.M."

The department feels that every student should be exposed to a course in business, because we all become consumers and can use the experience gained from a business course. The Business department has something for every student. Its courses include: Personal typing, Business Machines, General Business, Business Math, Book and Record Keeping I and II, Vocational Typing I and II, Machine Transaction, Office Practice, Stenography I and II, Business Communication, and Data Processing. Discontinued courses are Distributive Education, Consumer Law, and Consumer Economics.

Music Masters

The basic goal of the Music Department is to continue developing a strong music program through the discovery and development of aptitude for music and its encouragement for further study. Towards this end, the Music Department offers a variety of courses that are intended to provide for the musically gifted and talented. These courses are Music Workshop I and II, Mixed Chorus, Advanced Mixed Chorus, Concert Band, Stage Band, Instrumental Classes consisting of strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion. In addition, Music Foundations is a mainstay of the department, carrying with it a state mandate for graduation.

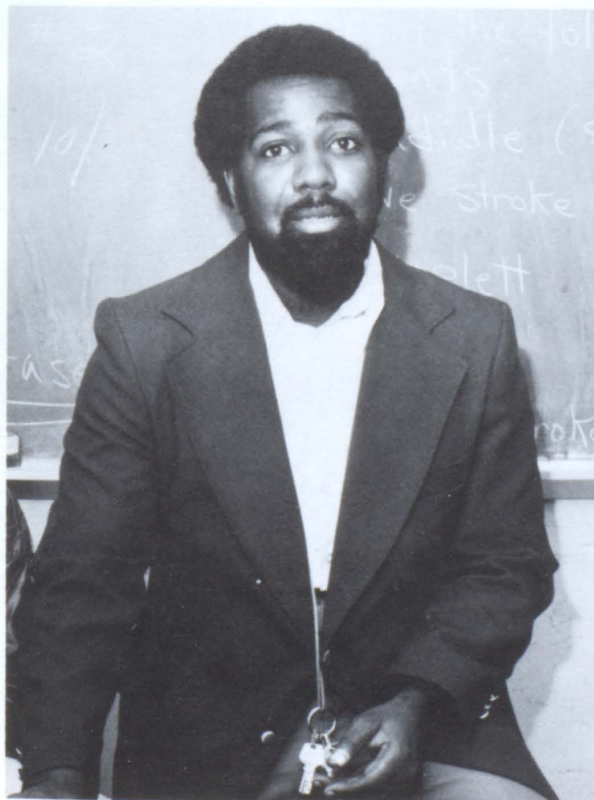

Among the objectives of the Music Department are: to develop an awareness of career possibilities as artists, teachers, performers or craftsmen; to develop self-expression and creation; to encourage the development of talent to the greatest degree; to encourage broad participation in a variety of listening and performing experiences, to develop the concepts of music as "one" art, music as a "doer's art", and music as a community enterprise; and listen to this — to be unafraid of your "own thing," yet understanding of another's.

Hands On Activities

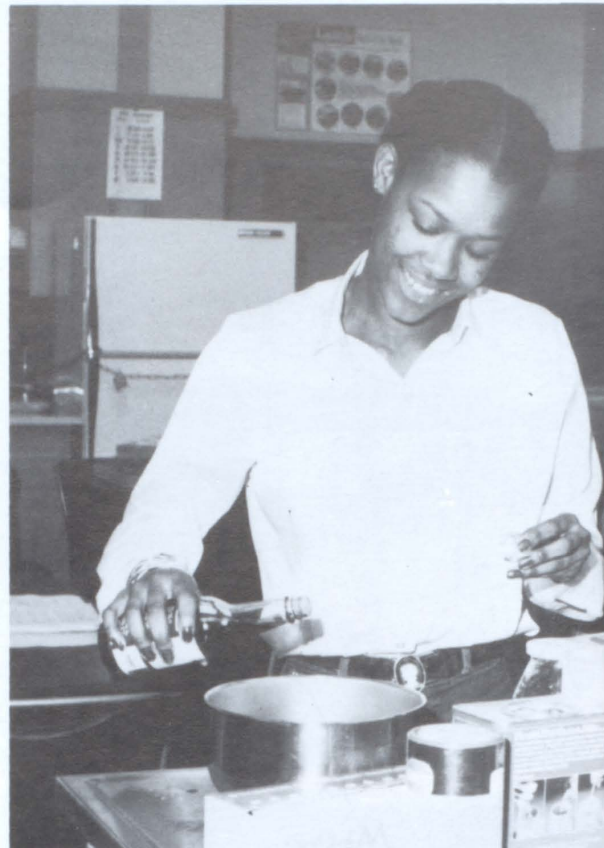

The Practical and Fine Arts Department prepares students for year 2000 in both a practical and an artistic way. The department attempts to provide each student with the preparation, growth experiences and guidance for modern living through an instructional program of the technical, aesthetic, consumer, recreational, occupational, organizational, social, historical and cultural aspects of our society. The department encourages "hands on" activities to provide specific vocational skills and competencies. In conjunction, with the career program, advanced courses are offered to strengthen student proficiencies to enter employment. Courses offered are — in Fine Arts: Arts Foundations, Commercial Arts I and II, Studio Art, General Art I and II, Crafts; In Practical Arts: Home Economics — Foods I and II, Clothing I and II, Early Childhood Development I and II, Consumer Homemaking Education, Cooperative Home Economics; In Industrial Arts — Woods I, II, III, Graphic Arts I, II, III, Electronics, Photography, Mechanical Drawing I and II, Architectural Drawing, and Metals I and II.

Students of science studies get the chance to experience practical experience at its best as science teachers expose their students every day to a new scientific experiment. This "hands-on" approach was the reason for the recent change from General Science to Physical Science as mandated by the Board of Education. This technique emphasizes individualized learning and group activity. The department is also emphasizing the Thorough and Efficient (T & E) objectives of math and reading skills.

New in the science curriculum are Urban Ecology, Science Math, and Physical Science. Urban Ecology is opened to students grades 10, 11, and 12, and concentrates on the study of man and his relationship to his environment. Science Math preps students who plan to enter the allied health fields. Physical Science replaces General Science in the ninth year: this is an activity-centered course emphasizing topics relating to the areas of physics and chemistry. Along with these new courses, standard courses such as General Biology, CP Biology, Honors Physics, AP Chemistry, and Physics Lab and Chemistry Lab are taught.

Mr. Bruce Bennett, Chairperson (top right) sanctioned the change from General Science to Physical Science as it afforded students like Ivan Brown, Lisa Taylor, Kevin Lester, and Royce Hall, (above) opportunities to experiment in an "hands-on" approach to teaching science. Here, they study the mechanism of the Van De Graaf Generator.

The Return Of Kennedy, Khomeini, And The Ku Klux Klan

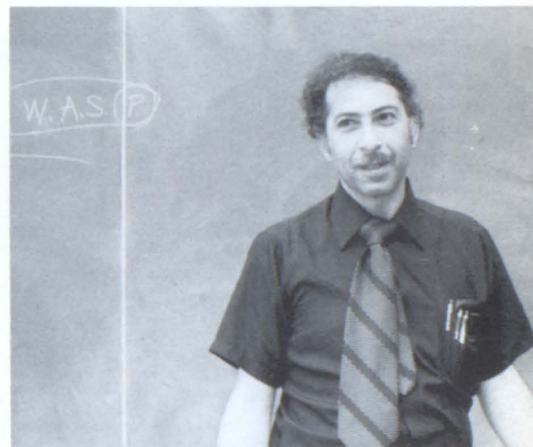

Arvento Hilliard and Leasonia Kelly locate various Middle East countries, including Iran where 49 Americans were held hostage under the rule of the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini.

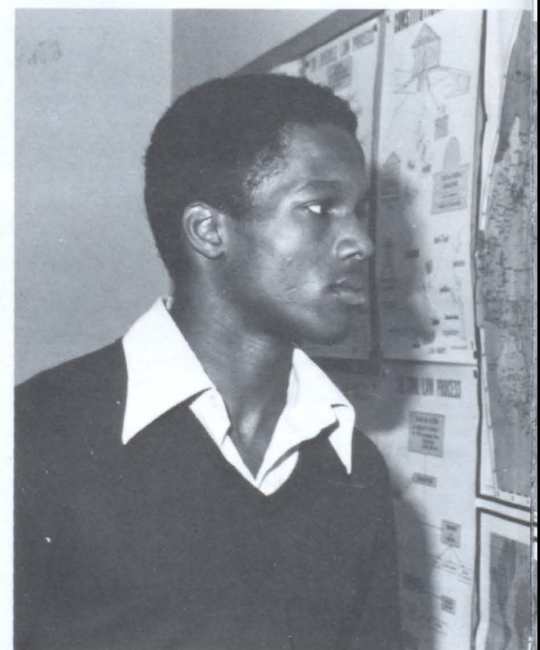

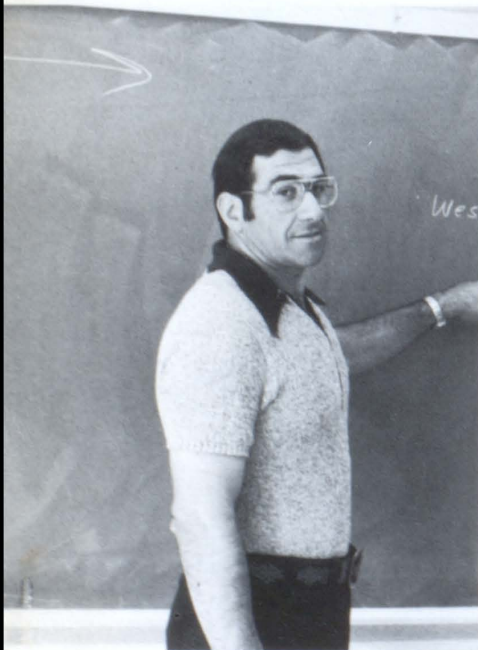

In addition to the regular courses of United States History I and II, World History, Afro-American History, Civics, Psychology and Sociology, the Social Science department offers two new courses.

These courses are Women in History taught by Ms. Leslie Jenkins, and Law in Action taught by Mr. Bill Tyler. The first course concerns itself with important women in history, problems of women, the women's movement and image. This course is divided into two sections. The second course was actually started last year, but has since expanded to six sections, one taught by Mr. Hladney. This course concerns the students with the legal system in America, organizations of courts, rights of those arrested and does a unit on civil justice as well as criminal justice. The Star-Ledger is used to illustrate how the court system works.

Such noted people as the Grand Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan has given interviews via the console. Students get the chance to talk to James Scott (Rahway Prison), Charlie Smith (oldest living Black in USA), Hurricane Carter, Richard Wesley (writer) and many others.

A Wealth Of Health And Physical Readiness

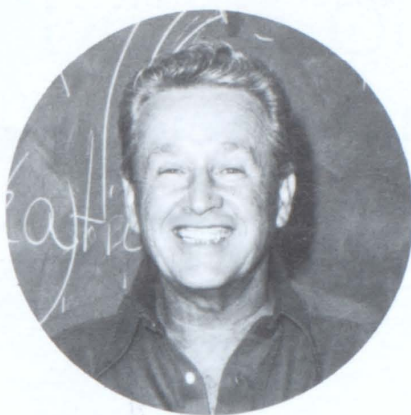

Weequahic students receive five periods a week of Health and Phys Ed instruction. This instruction is divided in two periods in one area and three periods in the other, and is switched the second semester so that the student spends an equal amount of time in both areas.

The aim of the Phys Ed curriculum is to ultimately prepare the student for physical readiness. This involves instruction and practice in marching, exercises, calisthenics, dancing, game-relays and combatives, soccer, touch football, basketball, volleyball, wrestling, tumbling, and apparatus — all of which are seasonal. The Phys Ed program also includes development proficiency in sport skills such as tennis, golf, bowling, badminton, swimming, paddle and table tennis.

In the Health classes, students get a fully integrated program that includes sex education — where students learn to understand their bodies, and studies in drug abuse. Also taught are first aid, driver's education, personal adjustment, safety, and home nursing.

Compensatory Education

What Is It?

Some Questions Answered

Q. What is State compensatory education?

- A. State compensatory education (SCE) is an integral part of the Public Education Act of 1975 (Thorough and Efficient Education) designed to improve the level of pupil proficiency and to prevent regression in the basic areas of communication and computation skills.

Q. What is meant by a State Compensatory education pupil?

- A. A State compensatory education pupil is a pupil who is enrolled in preventive and remedial programs approved by the State Board supplemental to the regular school program.

Q. How is a SCE student assessed?

- A. Each pupil shall be assessed upon entrance into the educational system and annually, thereafter, to identify pupils not meeting minimum proficiency levels. For SCE student selection for remedial and preventive activities, the district will need to interpret these assessment data.

Q. What is meant by the terms communication and computation?

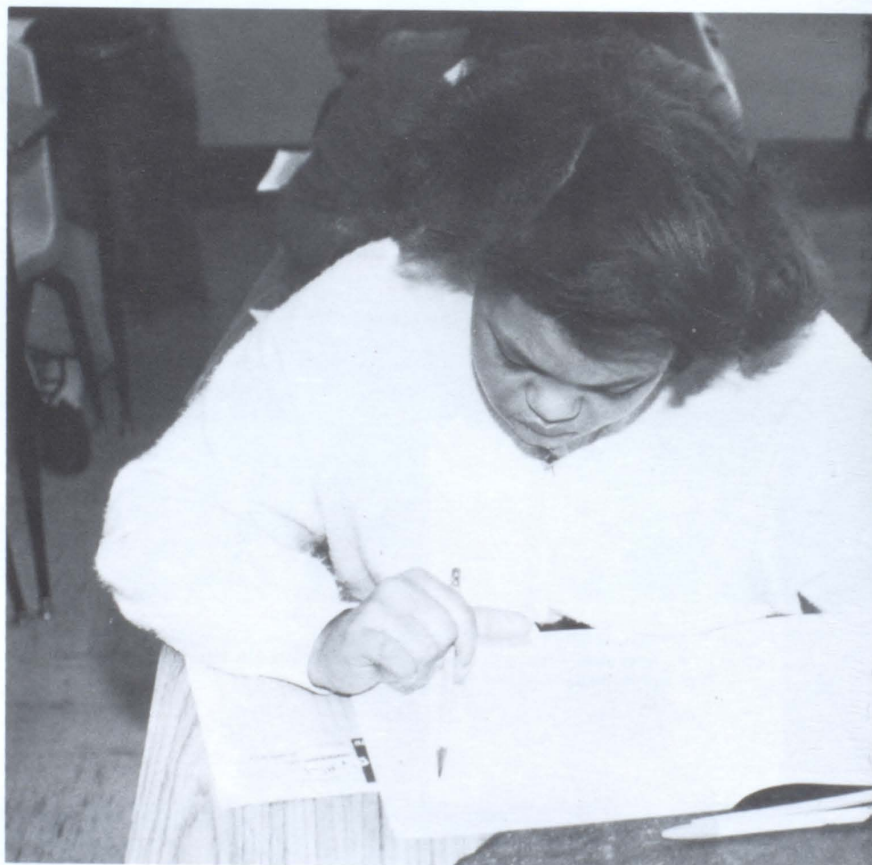

- A. Communication is defined as reading, and computation is defined as arithmetic skills. However, districts are encouraged to include writing and listening skills and more advanced mathematics instruction.

Q. What is the relationship between basic skills and state compensatory education?

- A. Basic skills should be considered an umbrella under which all instruction that relates to communication and computation is subsumed. This means that there is a regular program offered to students and compensatory education is oriented toward either preventing students from having learning difficulties in this program or for remediating those students who are below the minimum standards established by the state. In essence, the two should be considered part of the same program.

(Questions and answers were taken, for the most part, from QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS published by the State of New Jersey Department of Education.)

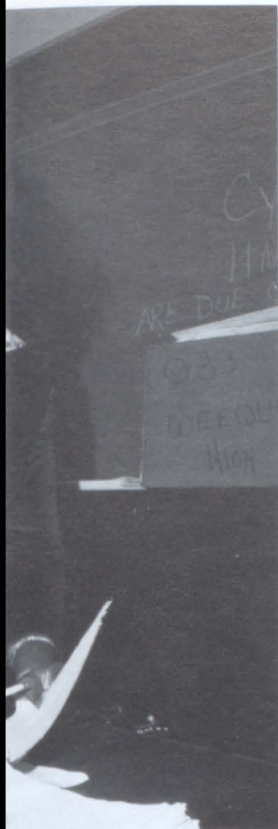

Combining computation and communication programs bring together English and Math department heads on a regular basis. (below): Doctor Clark coaches new English department chairperson, Mrs. June Dozier, in Needs Assessments.

Mini Day-Care

Curriculum Highlights

The Early Childhood Program is a two-year program. The first year the students learn how to "live with children." The course includes the development of the child from conception to eighteen years of age and covers the responsibilities and problems of parenthood. The second year the students learn how to "work with children" in a pre-school setting. The preschool has from ten to twelve children from the community who are three to four years old. The high school students plan and supervise activities that will help the children to develop physically, mentally and socially.

Physics Lab

Physics Lab: Students in Physics lab experiment in measuring heat and energy and weight of mass. Students are instructed in the Physics class and carry out theories learned in the lab.

Mock Wedding — Creative Dramatics

The classroom activities that led up to this mock wedding stressed compatability, problems that arise from teenage marriages, financial budgeting, raising a family, sharing a responsibility, commitment to one another and the need for communication between husband and wife. Mr. Frank Bruccalero, instructor.

Communications Telephone Curriculum Highlights

Women's Studies

The Communications Telephone, under the auspices of Mr. Sanford Williams, History instructor, can go anywhere and talk to just about anyone. Mr. Williams often uses this phone to communicate with controversial personalities not within reach, such as: James Scott at Rahway Prison; The Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan; congress persons; Mayor Gibson; directors of Black Studies Courses at Universities across the country, and many, many more. Classes are invited to join Mr. Williams' class, often combining English with Social Studies. The Women's Studies Classes (instructed by Mrs. Leslie Jenkins) exists to insure that the study of human life and culture involves a just and equitable regard for female experience; it exists, according to Mrs. Jenkins, to counter the indifference, the omissions, and the biases of traditional disciplines. Units in women's studies are devoted to women's roles, perceptions, self-images, situations, relatives, and status. The curriculum seeks to underline the varieties of female experience through time and across cultures, "notable" third world women, poor women, educated women, and working class women.

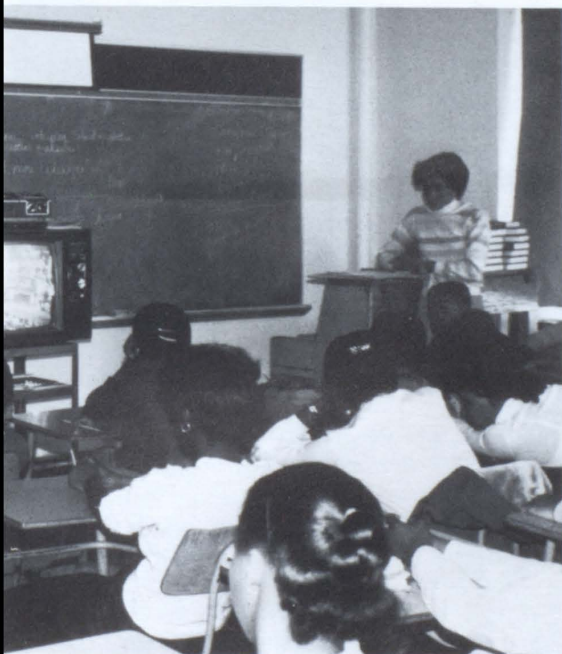

Creative Writing

Graphic Arts

Music Appreciation

Foreign Language

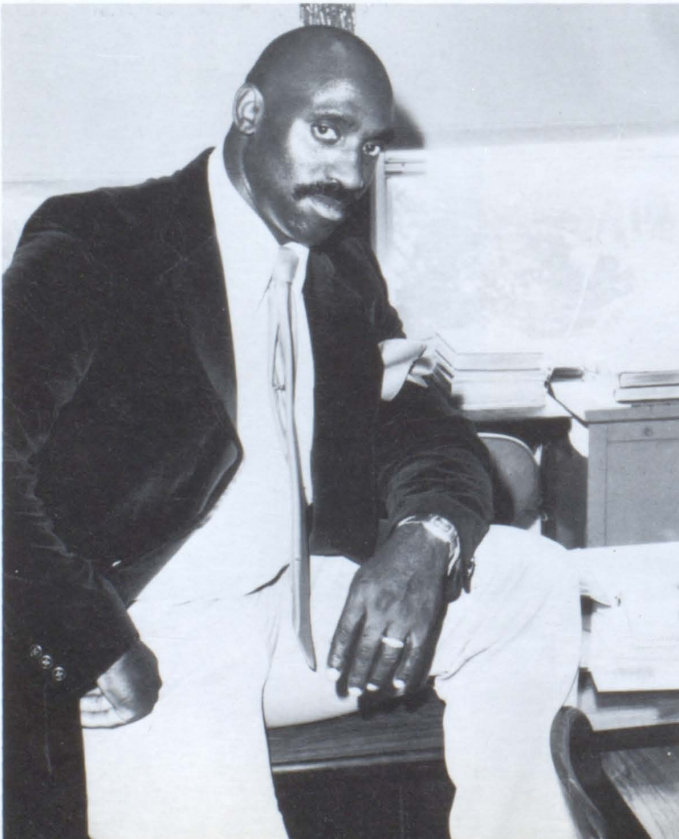

Students not only write in Creative Writing class, they also act out the skits that they prepare (top). The class is taught by Mrs. Janet Sage. The Graphic Arts class prints business cards, flyers, pads, and other projects desired by student or school group. Some school printing is done on occasion. The class is taught by Mr. Robert Dennebaum. Mrs. Hardy's Spanish class extends its learning to festivals. Students cook/prepare a special Spanish dish and it is served in class. Closed circuit television is used to teach classes in the music department. Programs are taped and shown to students to illustrate preparation of a musical composition (above).

Special Education For Special People

The Special Education classes are well structured and follow specific techniques of teaching. Many innovative and creative methods are used in helping the student as demonstrated by Mr. Ahmed Popo (above) and Mr. William Wooten (below): Sp Ed teachers.

The Special Education Program at WHS comes under the umbrella of an Act signed by President Ford in 1975 regarding all handicapped children who require Special Education and the related services of the program. The key to Special Education is a specially designed instruction to meet the child's unique needs, and the related services are those additional services necessary in order for the child to benefit from the program. The students involved in the program attend classes outside the Sp Ed resource room. This procedure allows the students to become fully or partially integrated into the general student-body functioning of the school. When the student has met all requirements which have been prescribed for him, he may be declassified or graduated from the program. Many of these students go on to college, vocational schools, etc., and function as good citizens.

Special People, Special Occasions

“Don’t Let Everything Go Up In Smoke!”

Message from a devoted drug counselor:

“It has been an opinion of mine for some-time that there must be a complete reevaluation of priorities. We have to take a long hard look at what is happening to our community.

There is a frequent and familiar picture of groups of young people huddled around street corners, on porches, in front of and in schools smoking marijuana — reefer. Little do they seem to realize that their lives are going up in smoke!

School is not a street corner. All Behaviour associated with drugs, cigarette smoking, gambling, radios — all the things designed to make us fail — have no place in school.

If we take inventory of ourselves and begin to understand that we are of purpose and value, we will find that we have a responsibility to protect our bodies and our minds . . . don’t let everything go up in smoke!”

Drug Counselor, Mrs. Loraine White, goes over a drug-related case with VP Mr. Charles Meadows. (below) Jennifer Dickerson chats with Mrs. White about a non-drug related subject — modern dance.

Helping Students Cope With The 21st Century

Mrs. Connie White often confers with the principal, Mr. Claude S. Bey, on creating professional support structure within the school for administrators, faculty, parents and children.

It is a complex, often confusing world, and adolescents are facing the world's stresses and changing values. Often they need help to cope with and keep up with these changes. That is where the senior high school social worker enters — to provide support services to help young students make satisfactory academic, social, and emotional adjustments. Recognizing that adolescence is a time of crises in identity, in peer and adult relationships, in value setting, and in coping with societal restrictions, the Board of Education in conjunction with the Department of Child Guidance, has provided a program at WHS.

The major goal of the program is to provide children the educational opportunity which will prepare them to function politically, economically, and socially in a democratic society; to this end, Social Workers at WHS provide full-time service in order that they be able to promote maximum development of children in the school, identify potentially handicapped children, serve as a home-school community liaison and educational counselor, provide individual and group counseling to children and their parents, provide service and consultation to the school staff and administration.

Nurse Florence White explains to Lynda Baptiste why it is important to maintain health records on students.

Promoting Optimum Health

Examining the throat is routine in nausea complaints, Cathelin Americain discovers from Nurse Dorothea August.

The Health Service Office assists pupils and staff in attaining and maintaining optimum health habits and attitudes. A routine day will find Nurse August and Nurse White administering physical examinations (including referrals and follow-ups), sports physicals, immunization shots, TB testing, scoliosis examinations, emergency first aid, infirmity complaints, and sometimes aspirin to teachers. Our nurses are well-equipped to handle this mammoth task. Requirements for school nurse include training as a registered nurse, nurse certification, and a Bachelor's Degree in Science or Health Education.

Phoning parents is part of the job in checking attendance: Ms. Pearl Tatum, attendance assistant.

Attendance means more to this department than just monthly registers and published absence lists. A fully manned operation, the attendance team employs the services of teachers on their service periods. Mr. John Humme heads this team, often conferring with the principal and vice-principals on operating procedures. The team's job includes securing 763 forms from homeroom teachers and maintaining these records throughout the year, contacting parents of truants, counseling truants, arranging home-study provisions, and on occasion, making some home visitations.

These past few years have seen the decline of the attendance officer. When funds were cut back by the city in 1978, attendance counselors were among the first jobs to be phased out, though ironically, absenteeism was on the incline. Joining in on focusing on Operation Attendance are subject teachers who make every effort to get the student into class. Department chairpersons have devised their own "cutting" procedures and absenteeism regulations for grading to deter this problem. Being where you are supposed to be, when you are supposed to be — is all a part of preparing for the 21st Century.

Focus: Operation Attendance

Mr. John Humme and Mrs. Patricia Peoples check to insure that every student enrolled at Weequahic has a 763 form prepared for him.

A New Principal — A New Office System

It was like moving day at the White House. Upon the advent of our new principal, Mr. Claude Scott-Bey, the front office underwent a face lift in terms of personnel placement. Mr. Leo Pearl, Vice-Principal, moved from the office adjacent to Mr. Bey's to an office across the hall; and Mrs. Iris Kelhoffer, Mr. Bey's private secretary, was supplanted in Mr. Pearl's old office.

Mr. Morris Brinn, Vice-principal, now occupies Mr. Bennie Lee's office. (Mr. Lee was transferred to Central High School at the beginning of the 1979-80 school year.) The cubicle Mr. Brinn once called home is now being used by attendance counselor Mr. John Humme.

It's official: the old duplicating room now houses ID's, scheduling, and the scheduling VP, Mr. Al Gentile. The school newspaper's office is now the lunch card office manned by school clerk, Mrs. Nellie Bell.

New Duties were assigned to some secretaries and a new secretary was assigned to the front office this year — Miss Debbie McCormick.

Does The Uniform Make The Security Officer?

Does the uniform make the security guard? This year WHS students saw a change in the uniform of the security personnel. The old uniforms made the security look like prison guards — an image security is trying hard to quell. Actually, the security officer's job is to protect WHS from trespassers, damage and theft, and to maintain orderly conditions within the area. Security officers also have the responsibility of seeing that adverse elements do not obstruct the educational process in the school. A new image? You bet! Gone are the Walkie-Talkies that used to plague students and teachers alike. Gee whiz, the school looked like San Quentin! The new uniforms and new demeanor of our security help perpetuate a feeling of safety as well as disarmament.

Security Officers: (pages 90 and 91 in clockwise rotation): Betty Weems, supervisor; Filbert Mitchell, Barry Harden, Minnye McElroy, Ethel Sykes, Kenneth Harden, Kenneth Hanks, Clifford Gardner, and Milton Hayes.

"To Aquarius, we will go" seemed to be the daily song of many students who refused to eat school cafeteria food. But with the closing early in the year of Aquarius (the fast food snack bar across the street) for painting and repairs, students found themselves compromising their eating values to take more meals in the school cafeteria — often limiting their intake solely to milk. It must be said, however, that the cafeteria workers do try to prepare well whatever they have been assigned for the day's fare.

A sample menu goes like this: mystery meat, pre-cut pre-frozen french fries, canned green beans, cole slaw, milk, and artificially flavored juice. Alas, so is the way of all institutional food.

Cafeteria Staff:

"To Aquarius, We Will Go"

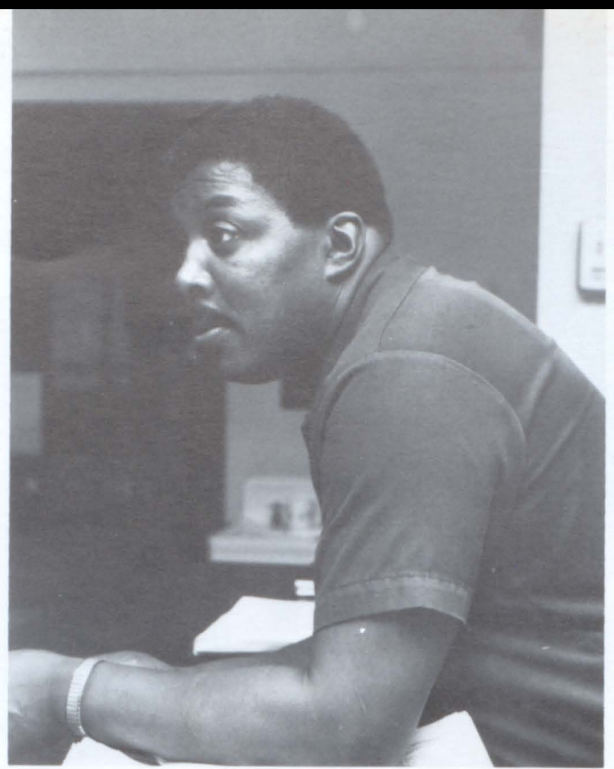

David Reuben and Gwen Horton enjoy eating together in the school's cafeteria. Gwen, watching her figure, only drinks milk during lunch.

Madelyn Jay (left) new to Weequahic, admits that the food was one of the major things she had to adjust to at WHS.

Broken glass in the cafeteria, spilled water in the aisle from a glass or a roof leak, strewn paper in the hallways, the lavatories, dirty walls, dirty panes, dirty blackboards, locked rooms, broken windows, shadeless windows, jammed doors, jammed lockers — call someone from maintenance to the rescue.

Custodial workers are always on the job. You notice a few about the school and even know them by name, but did you know that a whole new crew comes aboard about the time you should arrive home from school? About six in number, they are supervised by Mr. Slappy. The day personnel is supervised by Mr. Henry. Together they work to make WHS a clean, and therefore, healthy and safe place to study, work, and sometimes play.

PTSA Sponsors Open House At WHS

Mr. Herbert Friday, PTSA Executive Board president, welcomes parents, teachers, students, and community to the first Open House, Thursday, November 1, 1979. (above): Mrs. Devator Hooks, 1st Vice Pres., prepares refreshments for guests. Other officers of the PTSA are: Mrs. Allicia Rice, 2nd VP, Mrs. Mary Singleton, 3rd VP, Mrs. Velylia McIver, 4th VP, Dan Beasley, Rec. Secretary, Mrs. Alberta Bey, Corr. Secretary, Mrs. Helen Odom, Treasurer, and Mr. Claude S. Bey, principal. Mr. Arthur Coles (right) discusses student's performance in General Art with mother.

(at left): Miss Janice Lanier explains how student has not performed as well as he could in her class. (below): Mrs. Sandra Talmadge listens to parent explain why her child has expressed musical interest. (below): Mrs. Nettie Thomas points out to mother a sample of her son's artwork on the walls; and Mrs. Mary Hardy jokes with the Britton family.

It was February 19. A night Janice Sullivan will always remember. The night she was crowned to reign over all of Weequahic. It was her poise, her grace, her beauty that enthralled the judges, not to mention the rendition of her original poem she wrote a year ago as part of an English assignment. "Back in Love Again" was its title. But let's digress a moment to the hour when Janice was just one of seven senior young ladies vying for the scepter. The contestants entered the auditorium from the rear dressed in long, white, flowing gowns of varying designs. Flowers adorned their hair and they were escorted by lordly gentlemen in dark suits and dark ties, a flower tucked in their lapels. They entered on the notes of a waltz composed by Dexter Wandell and were introduced to their audience as they curtsied gracefully. On stage, the couples danced to "Ladies' Night" by Cool and the Gang. Following their entrance came their talents which ranged from baton twirling to singing to dancing to dramatizations. Evening and casual wear were modeled. Shortly thereafter followed the crowning of the queens (see page 108). Entertainment was provided by The WHS Jazz Band. The competition was sponsored by The WHS Drama Club and coordinated by Ms. Janice Findley and Ms. Sarah Sutton.

Scenes From Sweetheart's Night

Getting Off The Wall

Sweetheart's Night sponsored by the OBA was given in the girls gym this year. Unlike previous years, it was informal. Every year since its inception in 1978 by The Legend, the OBA has combined with the Legend in this effort to crown the leading couples at WHS. On these pages are scenes from that night (February 8) as students got "off the wall" and onto the floor for a heart of a good time. See Sweetheart winners on page 161.

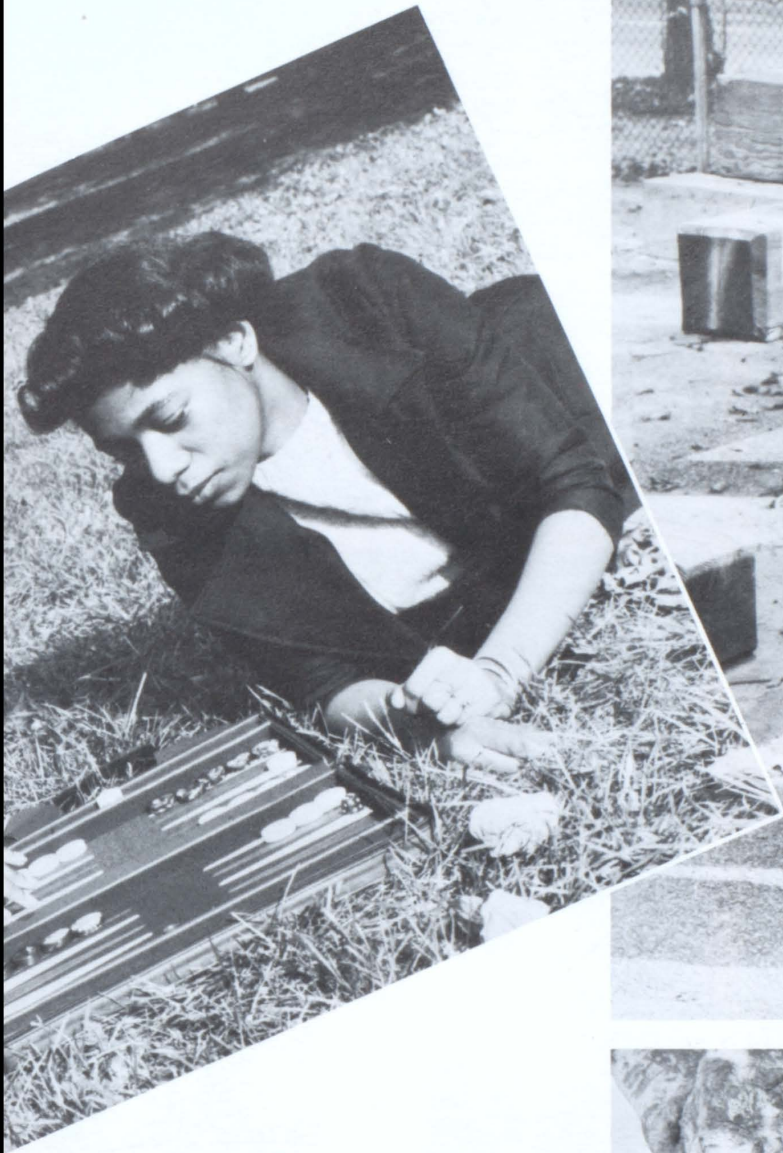

In Style:

Senior Fashions

The idea of featuring seniors in the fashions of their final year became so popular from the 1978 edition of the Legend that we decided to increase this section by two pages. Included are casual, sports, Sunday Best, formal, and school wear.

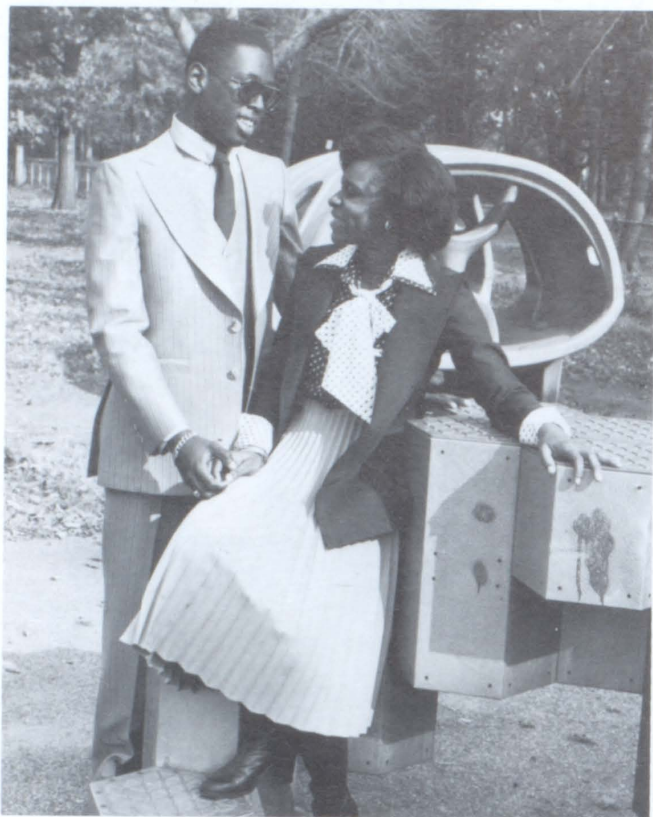

*Jordache, Sasson,
Vanderbilt, Gucci,
Yves St. Laurent,
Pierre Cardin, Picone
Halston, Cassini*

Sheryl Dubois and Katrina Cosby (above) relax in lazy Weequahic sunshine to match wits at backgammon. They each wear fall blazers: Sheryl's plaid and accented with solid blue blouse: Katrina's, navy and pushed to the elbow — as is the 79-80 style. Opening our section are Melvin Artis and Towana Elmore (Miss Swimsuit) dressed in various shades of grey wool and cotton. Notice Towana's cowgirl boots which are a fashion hit of the 80's. On this page couples Michael Oneal and Gloria Austin, Maureen Mathis (Miss Homecoming) and Kevin Owens pose in sports coats, two piece grey suiting, and a fox fur. Ready for any dressy occasion — this adore-some foursome.

Weequahic students have the reputation of being more fashion-conscious than their teachers. Be that as it may, no one can argue the fact that WHS has some of the finest dressing students in Newark. If clothes make the man, WHS seniors shouldn't have too much trouble making impressions in the 21st Century.

On these two pages we have the representative fashions of the year. On this page, Tyrone Holmes and Shelley Goode demonstrate the best type wear to attire oneself in when job hunting and interviewing. They should make a hit with their interviewers! (Below left): Nyana Irby pauses by an old Oak tree in Weequahic's scenic park to reflect on her up-coming job interview. She wears a two-piece sorrel-brown suit trimmed in black velvet and complimented with black leather boots. Marlene Shaw (below) shows off a white suit with contrasting navy blouse and navy heels. She adorns her jacket with a red rose. Ah-h-h, Marlene! On the opposite page, we have a "pot-pourri fantastique"! from left to right — Lori Vining in a yellow two piece casual; Arlene Thornton and Maurice Smith in theatre attire; Sheila Freeman in wool and raccoon; and Sharon Johnson in royal blue and white sport-swear.

SNOW JOB

a way to snow! (above): Snow pommels the head of Kim Small and Kim Wall.

"How Snow Can You Go?"

Karen to Kim: "I rather think our picnic has been daunted, old girl. What do you think?"

Kevin Simmons gives Madelyn Jay a lift to the snowy ground below. "But I like it up here," squeals Madelyn.

Raring for a snow fight, seniors congregate at the helm.

Seniors had planned a picnic on this day, December 18. The weatherman had given them the go-ahead, promising it to be the warmest day of the winter season. Yeah, famous last words, Mr. Weatherman! You really snowed us!

Closed. Gone Fishing

Wouldn't it be great if you arrived at WHS one morning to find a sign on the door — CLOSED. GONE FISHING. COME JOIN US AT WEEQUAHIC PARK? Well, Gregory Johnson and his cousin, Tanya Henry, never wait for such luck. They make fishing a regular activity — even in winter. (below): Greg shows Tanya how to grip the rod; and Darryl Bryant reels out to sea (or is that lake?) (on the opposite page): Marcel Craig waits patiently for a bite, no matter how small; and Jeffery Hughes shows Lisa Parkinson how to attach rod to reel. Three little piggies agone fishin'? Anthony Smith here with Bertha Robinson and master rodsman James Hemmings. Have a good day on the docks!

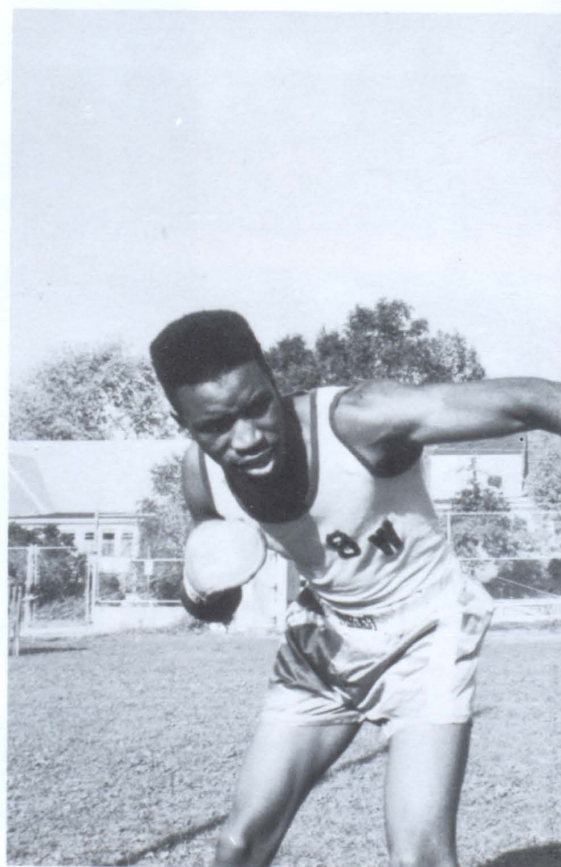

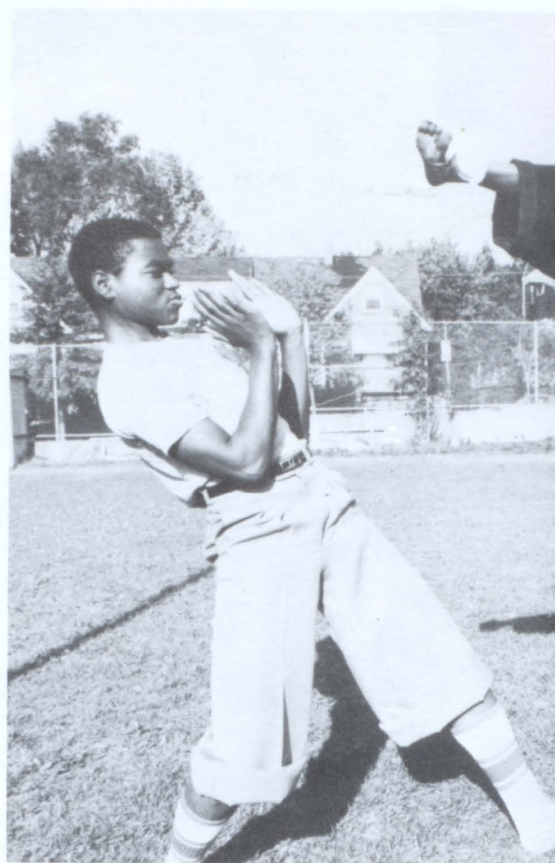

Ahyeee-e-e!

... is the warrior cry of hand-to-hand combat, expressly that of Karate and Kung Fu. Don't mess with these fellows on these two pages; their fists are lethal weapons, registered, they often joke, with the Police Department.

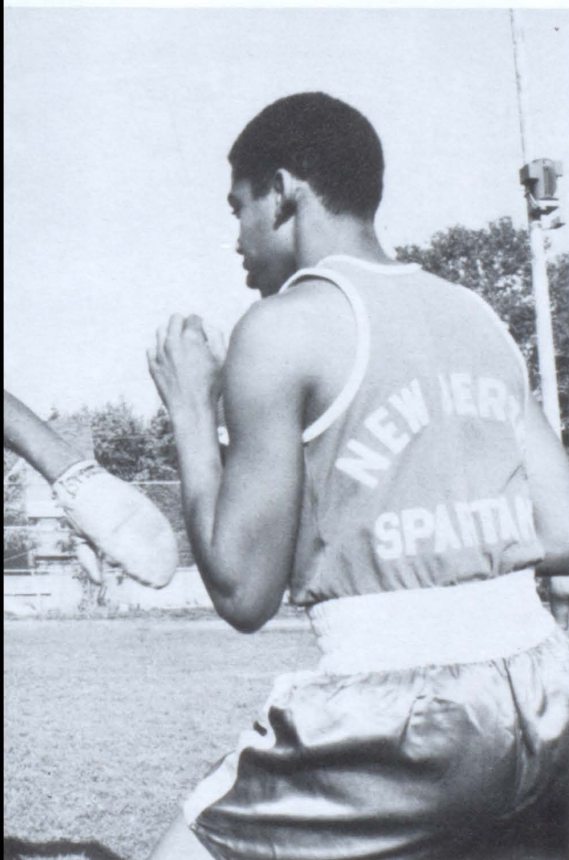

KARATE . . . Kar (empty), ate (hand): a form of Japanese combat originated in the 17th century. The idea began in India and eventually spread to America where it caught up with Rasheed (Darryl) Thomas, Curtis Holley, Sharik, and Kerry Sifford.

Boxing has sort of lost its flair since the departure of the greatest, Muhammed Ali. Michael Morrison, however, plans to change things in New Jersey — put a little excitement back into pugilistic fisticuffs. Michael competed in the Golden Gloves; he lost, but won the New Jersey Interstate Championship against New York. This competition was sponsored by the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU).

Kerry Sifford, it should be mentioned, studies Kung Fu under his brother's tutorage. His brother studied under Allen Lee of New York. Who is to say what form of self-defense is best? Each is excellent at his choice.

They haven't quite formed a bicycle club, but they're working on it. Often these seniors meet in the Weequahic neighborhood for a spin on two wheels around several blocks, even venturing as far as Irvington, Hillside, and Maplewood — before the sun goes down, which is mighty quick during the winter months. The group consists of Phillip Booker, Monica Sanders, junior David Garret, Crystal Ryans, Vanessa Knox, Edward Coles, Kirn McSween, and Vaughn Smith.

Skating With The Junior Class

The Junior Class picked the worst night to give their skating party — December 18th, the night it snowed and snowed. Despite the weather, there was a terrific turnout. Coach Adams was even there. So was Kenneth Robbins, Felicia Butts, Phil Bernard, Michael Allen, Reggie Price, Lawrence Outlaw and Lisa Taylor.

On Thursday, October 25 at 3 pm, 44 lovely young ladies sat anxiously awaiting their turns at the judges' tables. The girls had been waiting two weeks for this day — some had even been anticipating this moment since tenth grade when the LEG-END '78 announced they were producing a calendar that would feature 12 of WHS loveliest young women.

There were 24 top scoring girls that day: besides the 14 you see pictured here, were — Kimmie Smalls, Lynn Hudgins, Lisa Taylor, Trudy Harrison, Sul Capleton, Selema James, Angela Wiley, Keely Owens, Selina Henry, Gwen Taylor, Sharon Walker, and Karen Williams.

WHS Salutes Administrator, Teachers, And Student Of The Year

The Administrator of the Year for the 79-80 school year is newcomer Mr. Charles Meadows. Which goes to prove how popular Mr. Meadows has become in so little time. His tall figure and authoritative voice can be heard about the halls as he works closely with the security personnel in keeping order. Somewhat misunderstood as a martinet, Mr. Meadows is known to give fair and equitable treatment to all students. Welcome aboard, Mr. Meadows! Carolyn Dillard, elected Student of the Year by her peers, is one of the most active students in WHS's history. Everyone knows Carolyn. She has been a member of the OBA since coming to WHS in 1977. She served there as OBA Secretary. In the 11th grade she wrote the "Dear Carolyn" column for the Calumet, the school's newspaper. She is the editor of the 1980 edition of the Legend and manages to keep busy in church and other social functions.

We were seeking one teacher of the year and got two. Seniors voted a tie between Mr. Williams and Mrs. Jenkins — both deserving and more than worthy of this distinction. Mr. Williams is recognized by the New Jersey Association of Black Educators as one of the most outstanding educators in the country. He exploits the learning capabilities of his students by exposure. Exposure to the controversial, the great, the famous, and noteworthy. He accomplishes this through bringing guest speakers to WHS, through the use of the communications telephone (see page 80), and taking students on field trips. Mrs. Leslie Jenkins is a pioneer. She, too, exposes her students to the diverse. She extends herself to take an active interest in the students, academically and personally. She is the instructor of the Women's Study course, which she wrote and instituted. (see page 80).

Who can fill the Soccer-man's shoes?

Marlon Glaud tackles Shabazz bulldog in offensive play.

Win, Lose, Tie: Pele, We Aren't!

And everyone knows who Pele is. He was the number 1 soccer star. The fast growing sport of soccer has won the hearts of player and spectator alike. Many fans are to be found hovering on the sidelines of Weequahic's team, shouting words of encouragement. The team finished the season with 3 wins, 7 losses, and 3 ties.

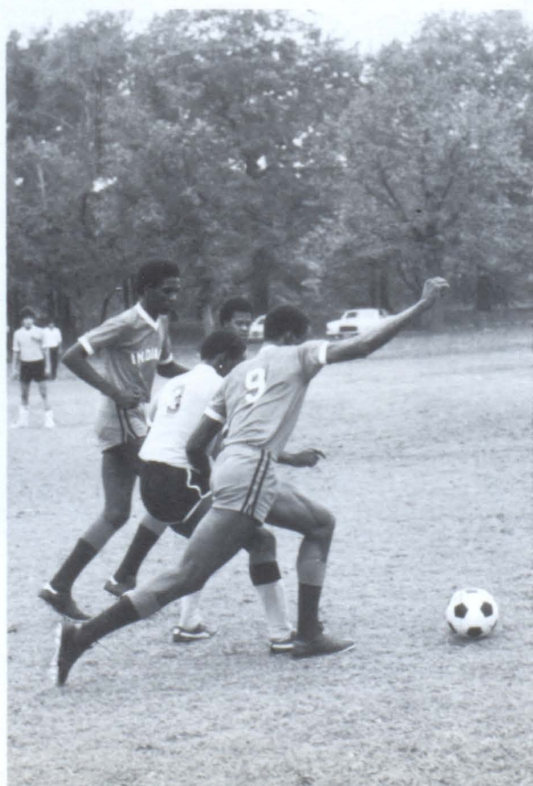

The Weequahic Soccer Team capped off its 1979 schedule with a dramatic double overtime come-from-behind tie versus its deadly foe, Malcolm X. Shabazz. Losing 2-0 with two minutes left on the clock, Renard Clayton dribbled deftly through more than a few bulldogs and raindrops to tip a cross field pass to Max Henri-Baptiste. Just as Baptiste was tackled from behind, he in turn flipped a header which seemed to freeze just long enough for senior Vaughn Smith to smash into the upper right corner of the net. With the score now 2-1, Shabazz attempted to thwart the Indian onslaught with their entire team back on defense. A soaked but unbowed Napoleon Jean-Baptiste was appreciated by the hearty WHS fans who jumped with joy as a high arching chip shot bounced into the goal to clinch the tie and send everyone home happy. Coach Trunk expects next year's wins to double to 6, a new tightened up defense is on the horizon, and a new goalkeeper who is lion-hearted.

Max Henri-Baptiste wins race for the ball for goal pointer. Marlon Glaud, Vaughn Smith (right) steal ball from mad bulldog.

Indians go on warpath as they vie for ball that will ultimately tie them with Shabazz bulldogs.

Coach Peter Trunk stresses upcoming maneuvers to outmaneuver opposing team. Senior members on Soccer team are: John Washington, Renard Clayton, Vaughn Smith, and Stephen Solomon.

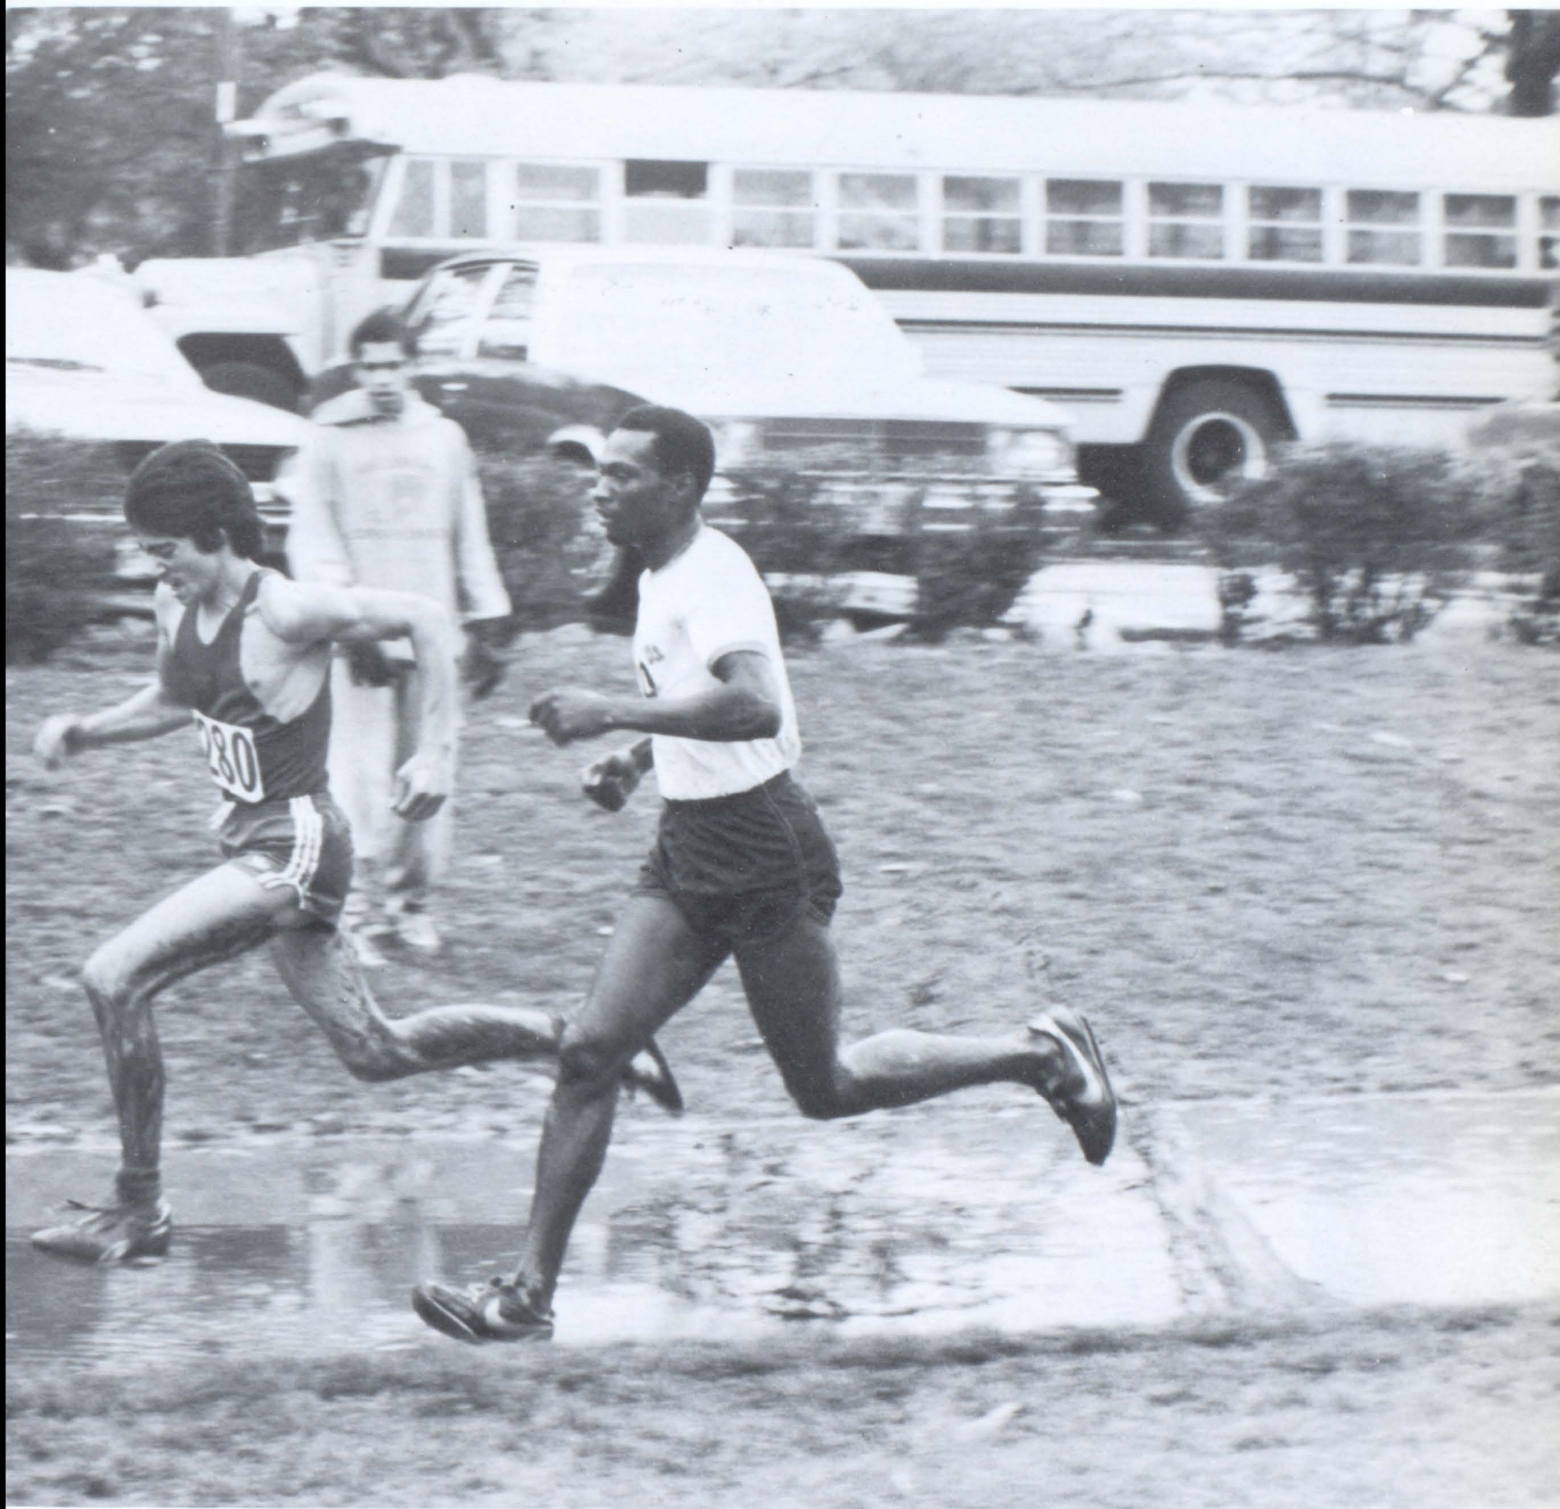

Despite a difficult season (only three wins), the WHS running Indians managed to wear out their soles, but not their souls, managing to finish each race — to lap the last mile of the way. In Coach Leonard Moore's words, the 1979 Cross Country season was the first time in 8 years that WHS had to take a back seat in competitions. After winning the City Championship in 1978, graduation wiped out nearly the entire team, leaving only Orlandes Howard and Gerald Polite. The other seniors on the team, Roye Hall and Randy Strickland, are actually sprinters, but they gave Cross Country their best. The team never quit.

Coach Moore expects a very promising team for 1980, to be led by juniors Orlandes Howard and Fernando Williams, sophomores Kevin Hill, Ron Christian, Reginald Bryant, and Resendo Duff.

Lapping The Miles

Junior Orlandes Howard hangs in there with the county's best.

"I'm running for my life" or is that "My life is running"? Whatever, Resendo Duff seems to be saying both as he paces behind Roye Hall.

Coach Leonard Moore clocks in the time as Orlandes Howard, Ron Christian, Kevin Hill, and Resendo Duff finishes the last distance of the muddy track. Roye Hall (opposite page) mixes with the quiet and greenery of nature as he runs with technique, skill, sustenance, and just plain second wind.

WHS Crumples Franklin Township 54-6

Weequahic's 54-6 victory over Franklin Township was highlighted by Tony Manley's three touchdowns, two on kickoff and punt returns. Manley took the opening kickoff and sprinted 70 yards down the left sideline for a speedy 6-0 lead. Phil Bernard fired a 28-point second quarter with a 42-yard interception return. Manley ran for the conversion. Afterwards, Eric Bryant ran a 35-yard TD-pass from Warren Reynolds. Kendall Buford made the score 34-0 at the half with a 45-yard interception return. In the third quarter, Franklin Township managed to break its drought, gaining 6 points. WHS came back in the same quarter on a four-yard run by Larry Shorter. Manley scored again in the fourth quarter with Shorter coming back with a 32-yard TD-toss from Reynolds for the final devastating score.

WHS Whips Shabazz 12-8

Fullback Tony Manley at the helm again, scored two touchdowns to lead Weequahic to a 12-8 victory over mortal enemy Shabazz. Weequahic took the opening kick-off and marched 60 yards. Manley gave Weequahic a 12-0 lead in the third quarter on a 70-yard run on the first play from scrimmage after a fumble by ailing Shabazz.

WHS Scores 12-0 Over Vailsburg

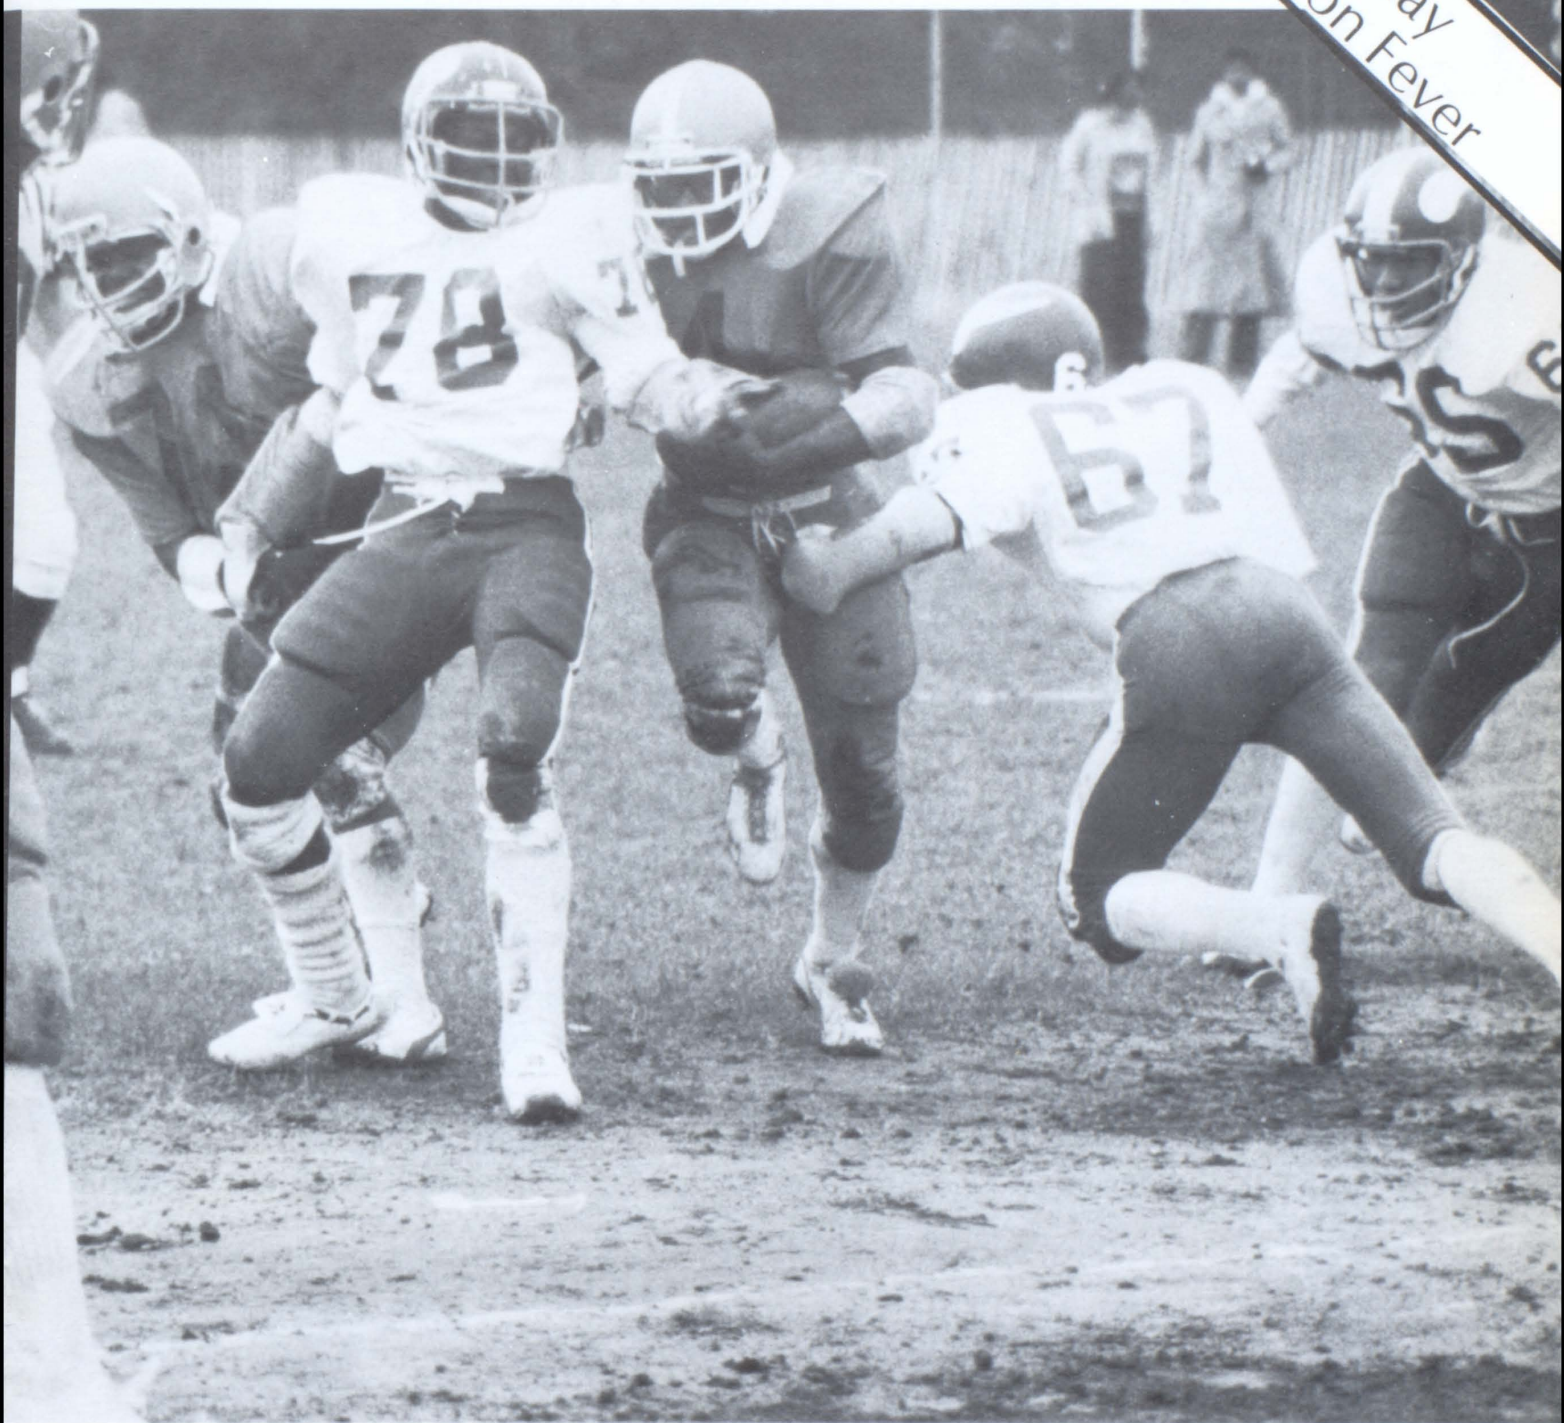

Vailsburg became WHS's fifth victim to succumb to the mighty technique of the warring Indians. Unbeaten at this time, Weequahic scored two touchdowns in the third quarter that carried the win. Kevin Jones scored first on a 37-yard pass from Warren Reynolds. The play capped a 75-yard, seven-play drive that began when Jones intercepted a pass at the WHS goal line to foul up a Vailsburg drive. George Lampley, later in the quarter, blocked a punt for WHS on the Vailsburg five. Two plays later, Larry Shorter plunged over from the three. Tony Manley ran for 107 yards on 12 carries and Jones caught three passes for 105 yards to pace WHS.

WHS Prevails Over Central 9-0

Weequahic stunted Central 9-0 for its sixth straight win. Tony Manley carried 11 times for 66 yards, finally dove over from one in the second quarter for the only touchdown. Weequahic scored quickly, marching 70 yards in four plays. Kevin Jones kicked for extra point in 7-0 lead. Weequahic tackled on a safety in the fourth quarter for its final points. David Reuben made the key tackle. Reuben led defense with 21 tackles.

Saturday
Afternoon Fever

Senior Fullback Tony Manley picks up short yardage before being brought down by Paterson Eastside Bulldogs. Manley later went on to score 6 in the 12-8 win. (on the opposite page): Larry Shorter runs the ball for a four-yard touchdown against Shabazz Bulldogs; Warren Reynolds sets up to pass, looking for an open receiver; and Kendall Buford #45, picks up a first down after breaking loose. The TD came on a six-yard toss from Reynolds to Kendall Buford in the end zone.

Inspiration From The Sidelines

Watching the on-field action from the sidelines is sometimes a frustrating thing to do. You scream, yell, shout messages to the players, hoping they heed your encouragement. On these pages are the coaches and staunch fans who aid in the morale of the team. It rained again! It seems like every Homecoming is brought forth by rain. But as usual for the marching Indians, they didn't let a little rain "whet" their enthusiasm. The parade was a little shorter in length than in previous years with only the WHS members participating. It began on Lyons from Bergen Street and proceeded along Clinton Avenue to Chancellor, where the noise of revelry kept getting louder, and louder; and as it kept raining heavier and heavier.

Scenes From A Homecoming

Of course we won our Homecoming game. It was Muddy but worth every one of the twelve points. At that point, we were victorious in every game — 5-0. Maureen Mathis reigned as Queen of the whole affair. Dorinda Pinnix was Miss Football. Other Royalty were Miss Junior, Delores Clemmons, Miss Sophomore Bridgette Cline and Miss Freshman, Jackie Webb. All were brought on field before the start of the game.

Saturday evening fever was caught in magnum force every weekend that WHS competed. One of WHS's strongest supporters is Councilman Sharpe James who declares a divided loyalty between Weequahic and Shabazz. He's pictured above. Mr. Claude Bey is often in tow with his daughter at all the games. It should be noted that Mr. Bey himself played on the WHS team in his high school days. Welcome back, Dexter. A 1977 graduate, Dexter Adams was the Legend's editor. Here, he greets 1980 editor, Carolyn Dillard, in Indian headdress.

The Magnum Fans

Mr. Lorenzo Grompone, Math teacher and Baseball coach, watches football action from sideline. The VP's — Mr. Meadows and Mr. Pearl — are always at the helm cheering our guys on to victory. Both gentlemen are former Newark athletes. A budding amateur photographer, Miss Scott is always where the action is with her camera. At the Thanksgiving game, academic coach, Miss Sarah Sutton.

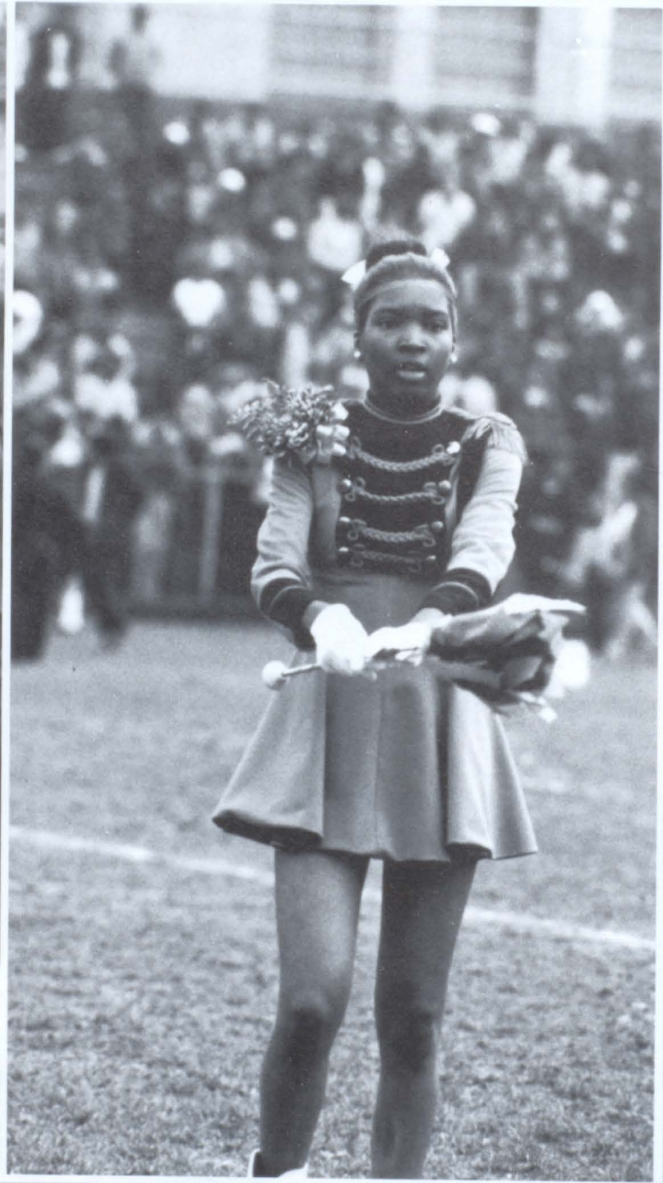

Everyone thrills to a half-time show, especially if the rival team's band is playing, too. The excitement is in seeing (or is that listening?) who has the best choice of music and routines. The on-field procession is a beautiful symmetrical thing to watch. And one wonders how they can keep up with those twists and turns, gyrations and dance steps that they perform. Of course, the trick is timing, and WHS Wonderful Marching Band has it timed to a T! Band Director Mr. Wesley has been working hard for the last two years to get the band in sounding order. He took over the job of Mr. Richard Berggren (now at Barringer) and has done a resounding job!

Sounds In The Air

Pre-Game Breakfast — Ere Turkey Day Classic

Every Saturday morning before a game was played, the cafeteria workers under the auspices of the Fathers' Club prepared a special breakfast for players, coaches, and invited guests; however, every year on the morning of Thanksgiving day, a special breakfast is prepared and served at the Holiday Inn in Edison, NJ as part of a weekend retreat. The players stay the night at the inn getting "psyched" up for the Turkey Day Classic. The guest list is family sized, and guest speakers come with words of encouragement and prayer for the fighting Indians. (above): Coach Adams enjoys a joke over coffee and Ed McLucas of the Board of Ed (former WHS coach) inspires the men. (below are): Arthur Coles (announcer and basketball coach) and Lonnie Paige, WHS Coach.

A Judge Booker award, it is conferred by Mr. George Hicks and Judge Irving Booker. On the dais are Robert Logan of the Fathers' Club, Father Finnerty, Mr. Nathan Michaels, Junior Class advisor, and Father Hank. WHS Takes Essex Easy

Golden Indian Review

Indians 85, Malcolm X. Shabazz 57. The Golden Indians shot a red hot 58.4 percent from the field in defeating Newark City League rival Malcolm X. Shabazz. Everett Banks scored 20 points and grabbed 17 rebounds. Breaking away from a 12-12 tie in the second quarter, WHS went on to outscore Shabazz 31-15. Banks scored five 2's and Darryl Evans scored eight in that quarter. Fifteen more points were added by Reggie Golden who had 10 assists and seven rebounds for WHS. This was the second loss to WHS by Shabazz.

Indians 89, West Side 45. WHS took an early 31-4 lead in the game as Jeff Jenkins scored 19 points. Jenkins grabbed 16 rebounds and ended with a total of 28 game points. Reggie Golden assisted with 11 points and had 14 assists.

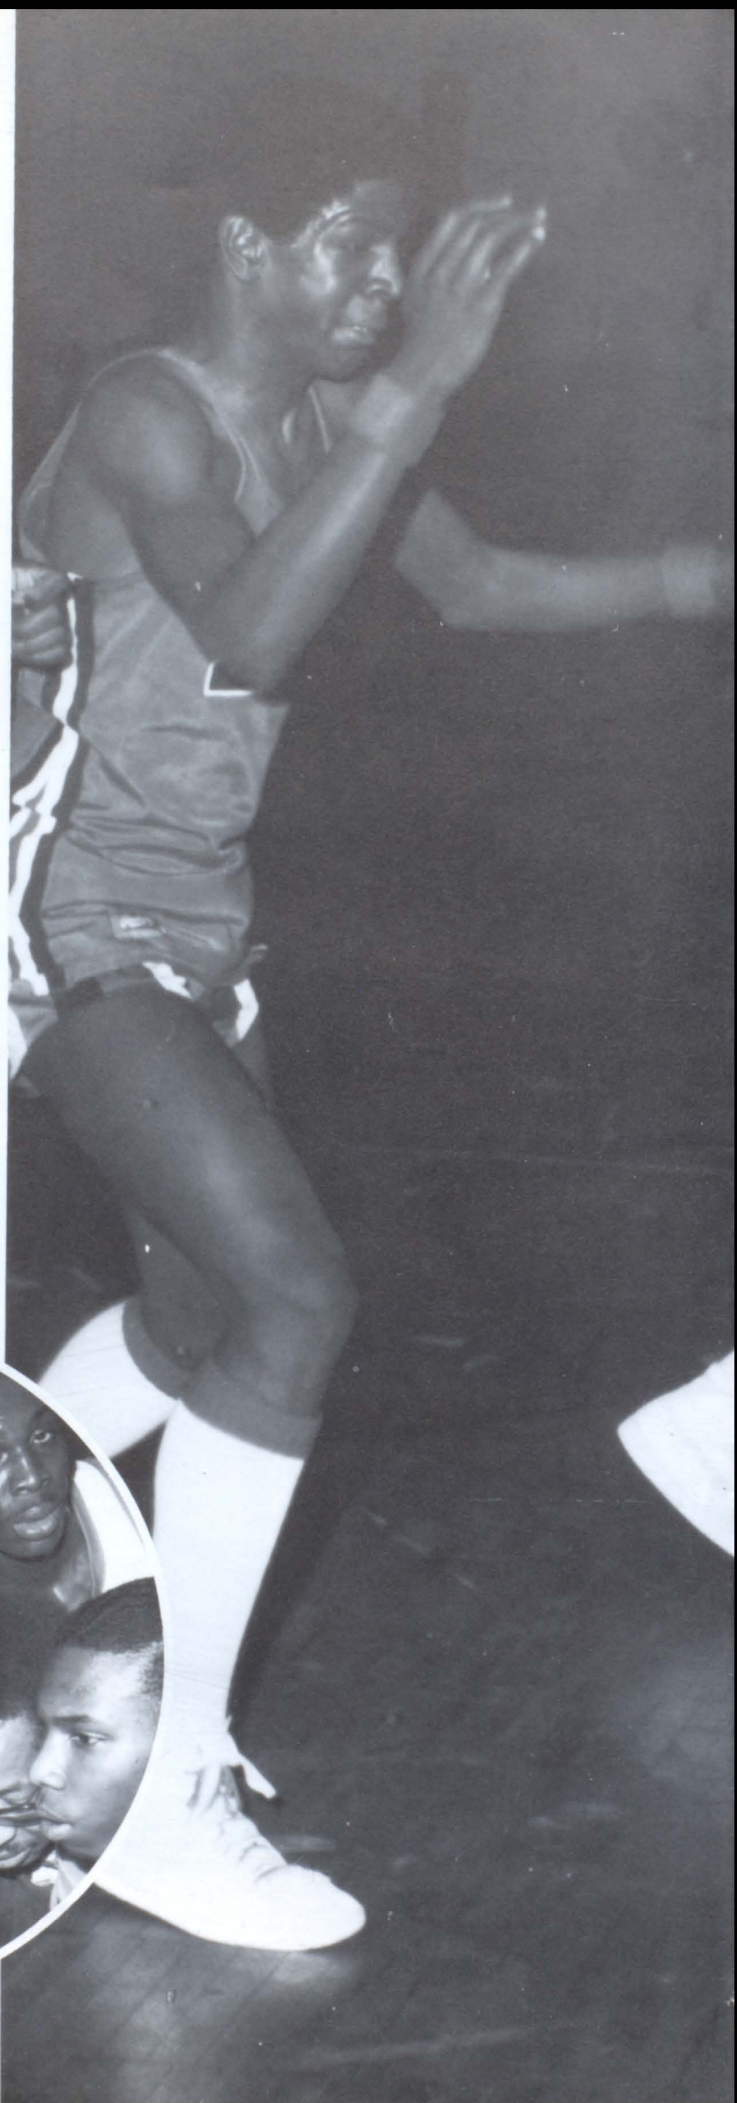

Indians 80, East Side 50. WHS took a 34-22 lead in the first half of the competition at East Side High. Reggie Golden and Steve Evans each scored eight points for the lead. Forward Jeff Jenkins had 11 rebounds and scored 16 points. He took eight in the last quarter as WHS out-pointed East Side 34-16.

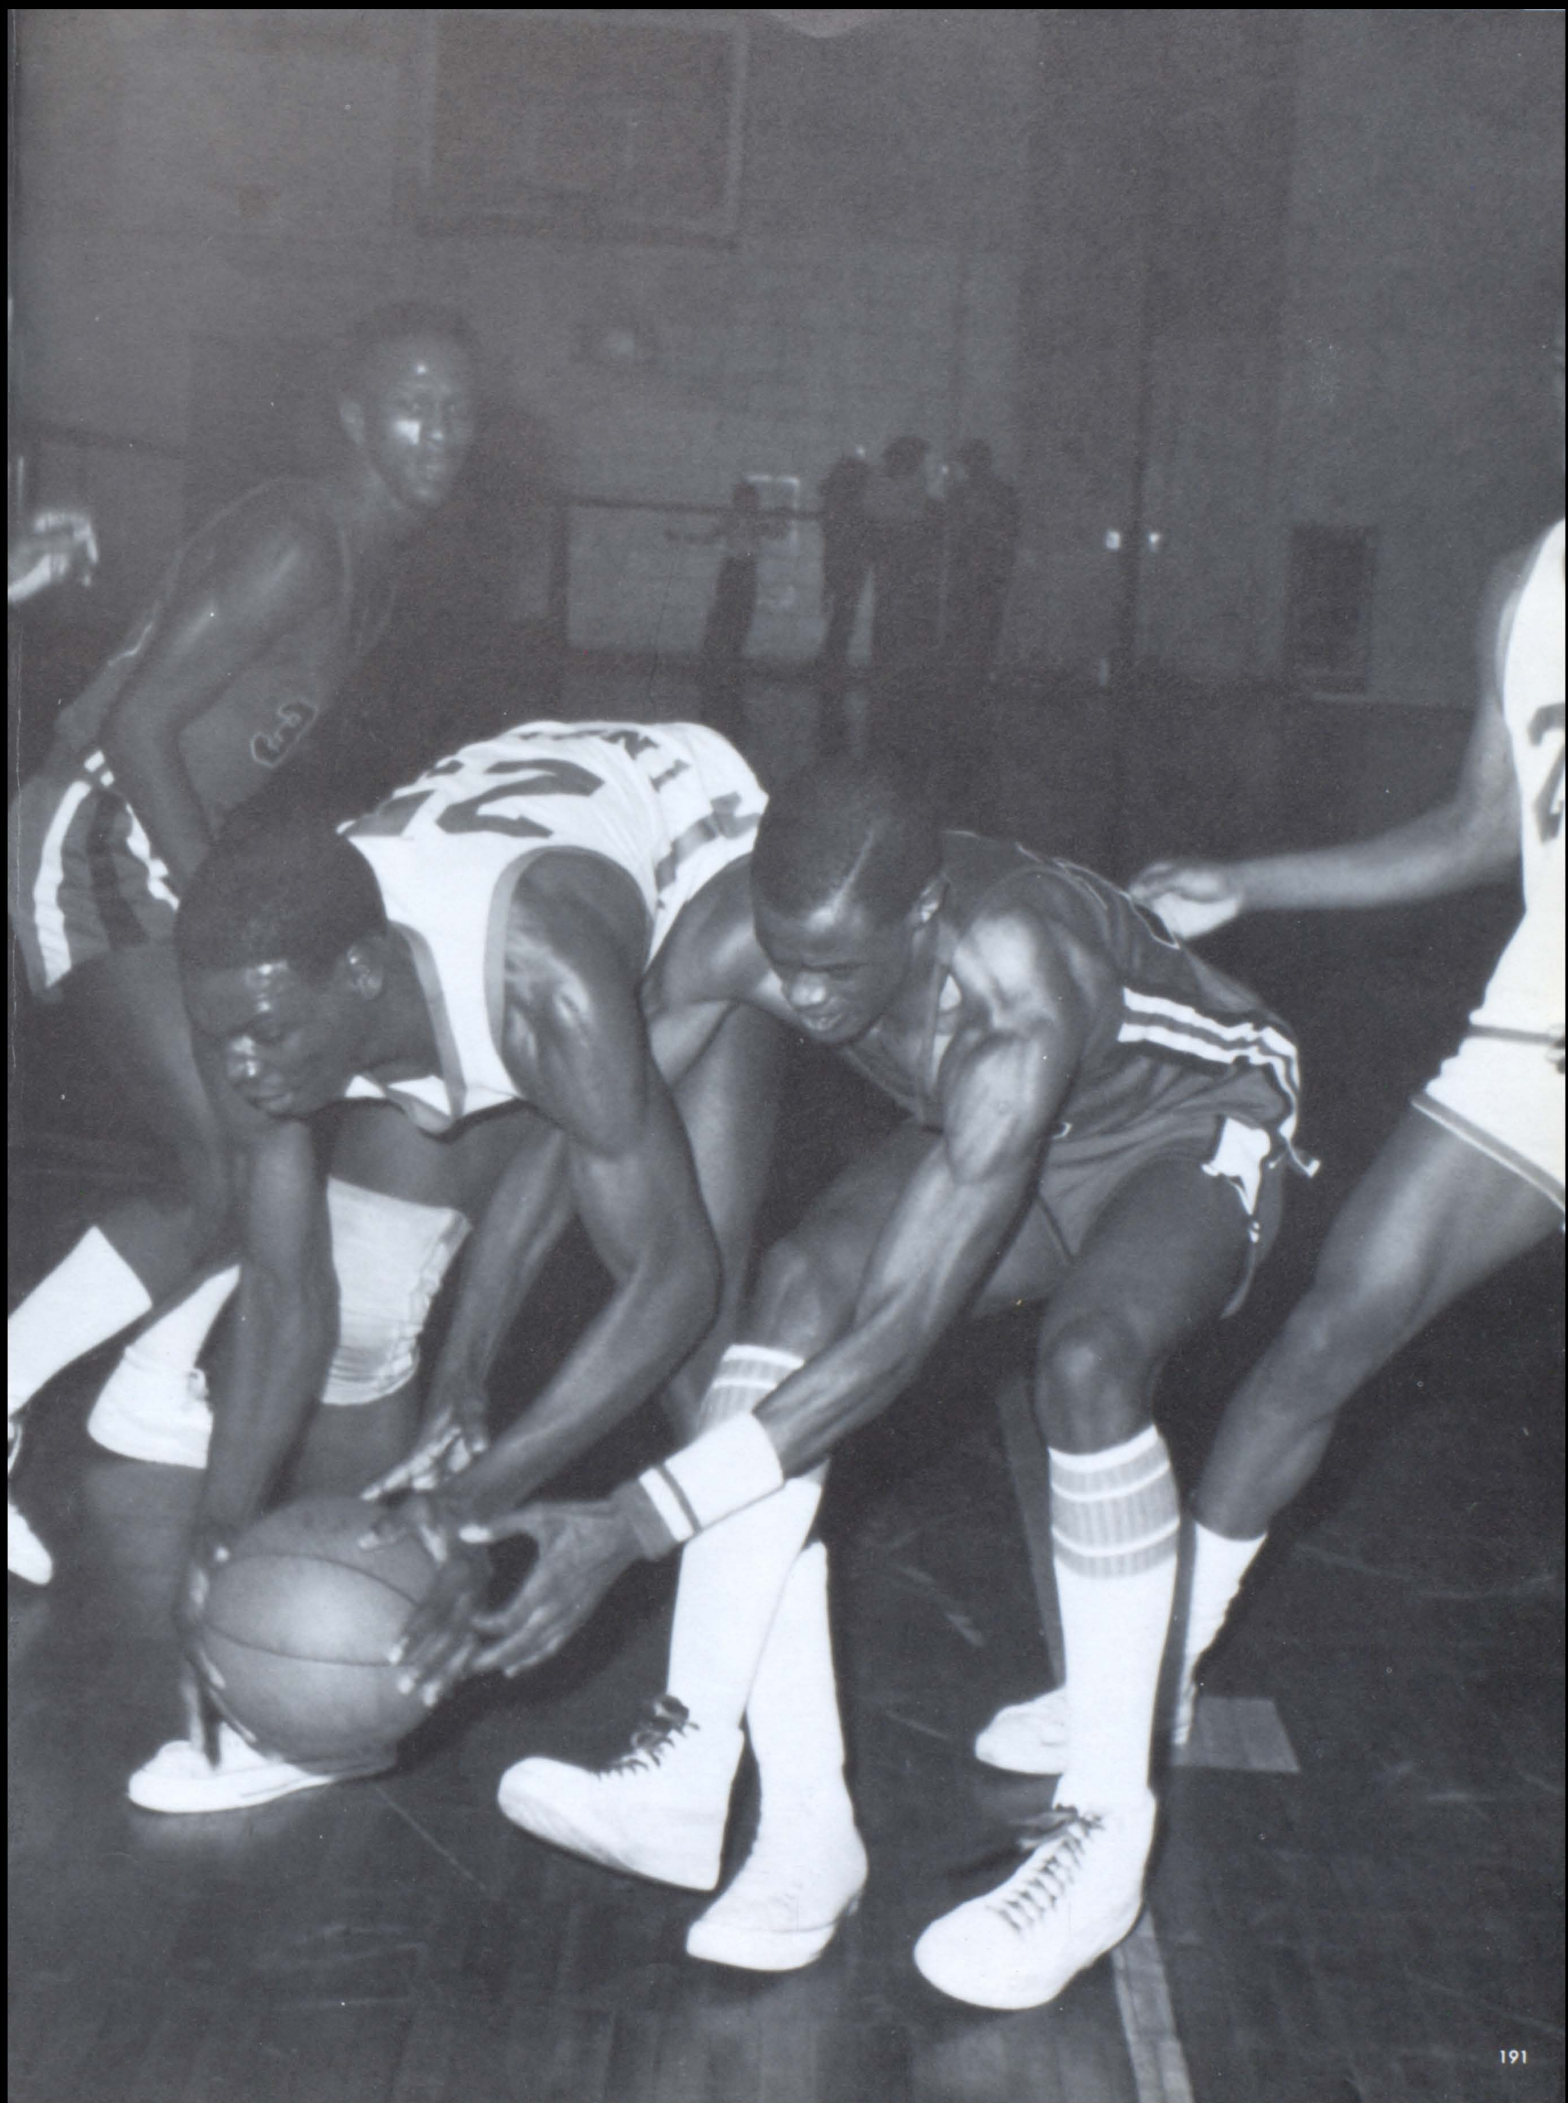

Indians 75, Princeton Day 62. Golden Indians battled it out all the way, as WHS placed four scorers in double figures and pulled away to out-point every period. James Daid scored 8 baskets back-to-back and Kyle Melton added another as WHS scored six in a row for a 32-26 lead in the second quarter. Daid scored six in the third quarter and WHS took a 50-30 lead. Jeff Jenkins scored nine of his 19 points in the last quarter. Melton led WHS's fast break offense with 14 assists while Daid snared 13 rebounds to set it up.

Indians 80, Elizabeth 75. Jeff Jenkins to the fore with 22 points to put WHS over the edge and break a tie Elizabeth. Jenkins converted a three-point play and two free throws to lead WHS 50-43. Jenkins had 12 rebounds and five blocked shots. Everett Banks had nine rebounds and 17 points.

Indians 67, Central 58. This game started it all. With a new coach, Coach Artie Johnson, making his debut, things looked awfully good. WHS had a 33-27 half-time lead and managed to stay the front-runner as Steven Evans paced Weequahic with 18 points. James Daid got off 7 baskets and 10 rebounds.

Indians 76, Snyder 66. James Daid led the pure-breds in their victory over Snyder. This game preceded the finals in the Region 4 Eastern States Basketball Classic at Plainfield High School. Weequahic dusted off Snyder by 10 points as Daid scored, and scored, and scored to put WHS at an easy 50-41 lead in the third quarter. Daid scored four of his 14 second-half points on layups; he had 8 points in the third quarter.

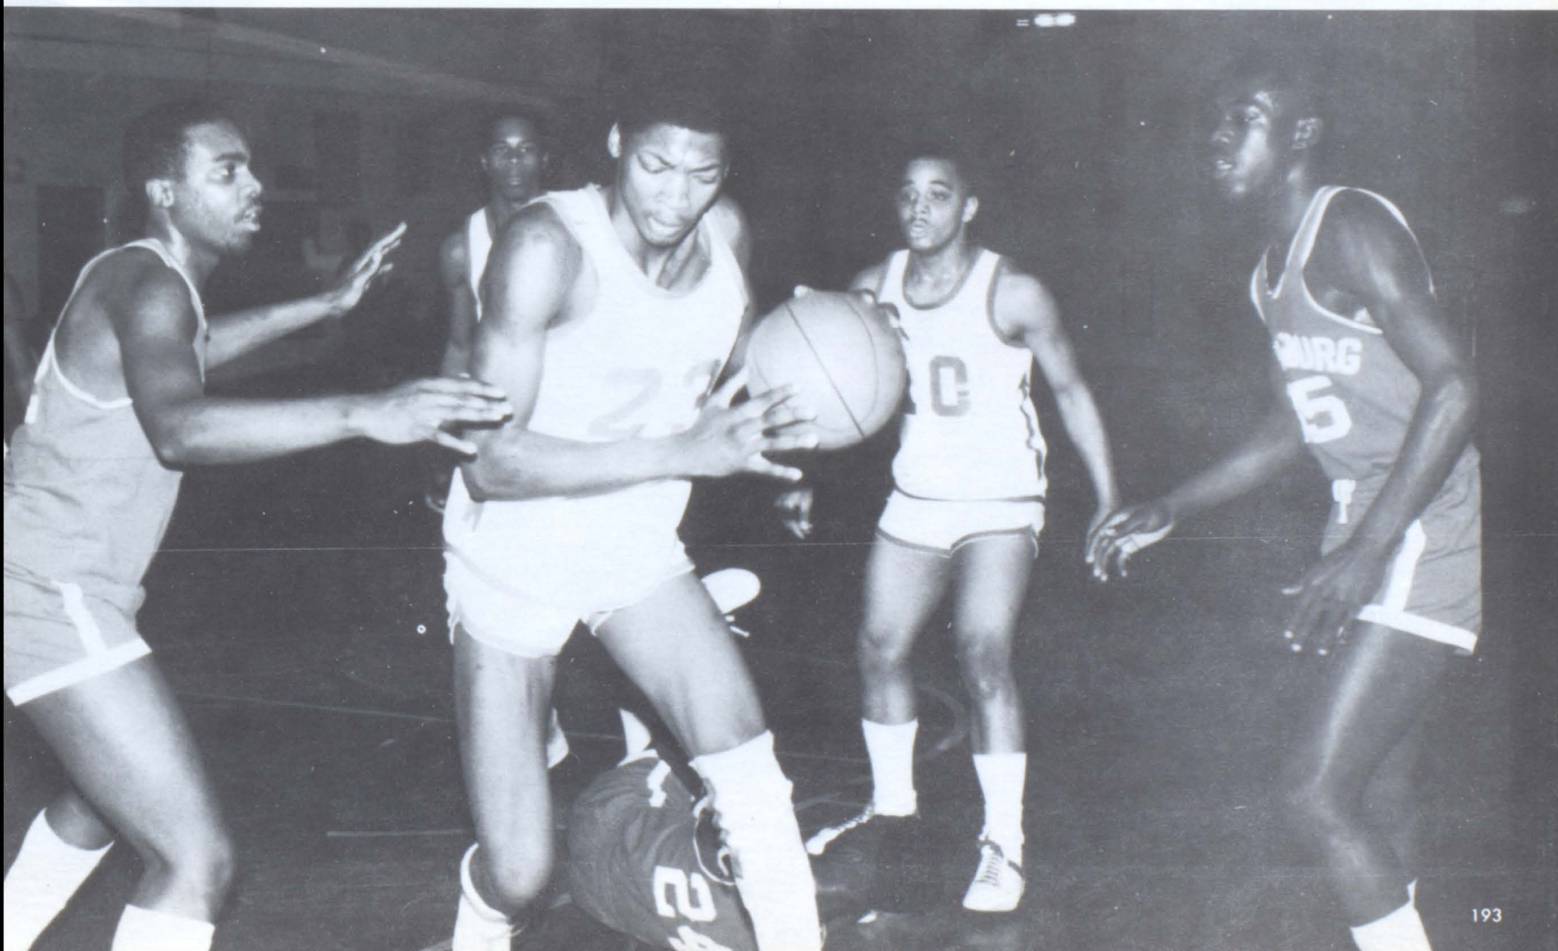

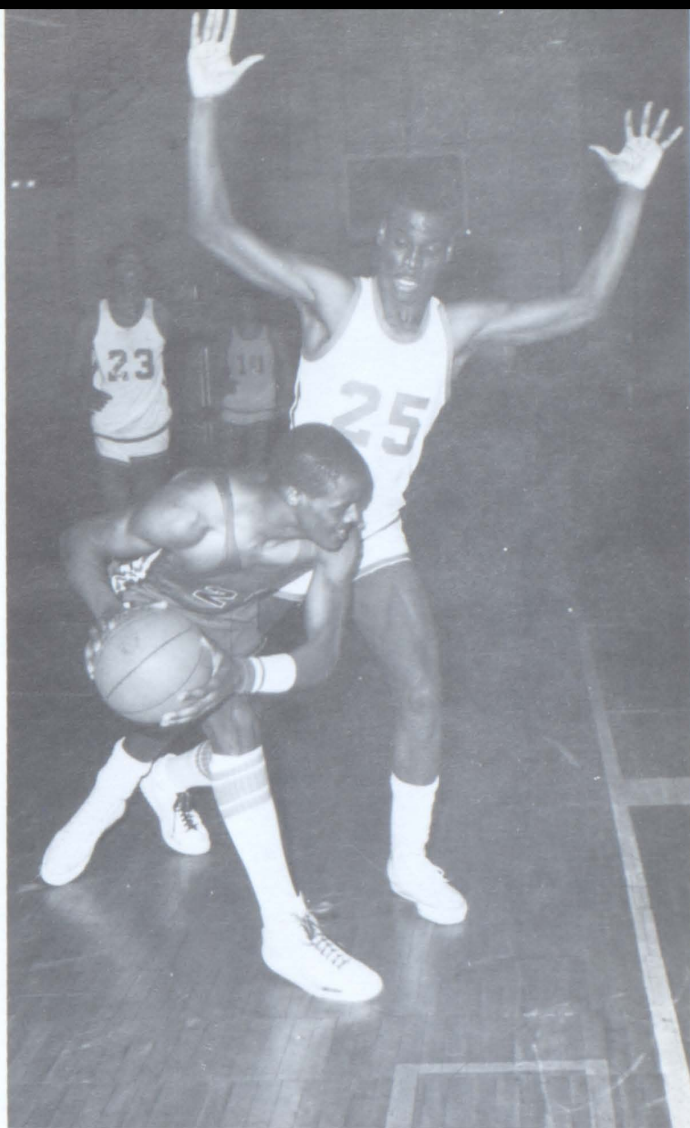

“When You’re Hot . . . You’re Hot!”

Weequahic has proven that its team is HOT by winning every game but one (to Valley, at a half-time play-off of 65-63).^{*} (on page 191): Everett Banks battles for a loose ball and was successful in one of his many rebound plays. (on page 190): Coach Johnson huddles with the fighting Indians in a time-out call. (above): Darryl Evans penetrates an attack and soars for a one-handed jump shot. James (Loose) Daids jumps for two points. “It’s in the wrist,” he says to us as he demonstrates (inset).

(below): Reginald Golden fakes out an Elizabeth Defender and Big E, Everett Banks, steady presses foe. Jeff Jenkins gets the rebound as a Vailsburg player is decked.

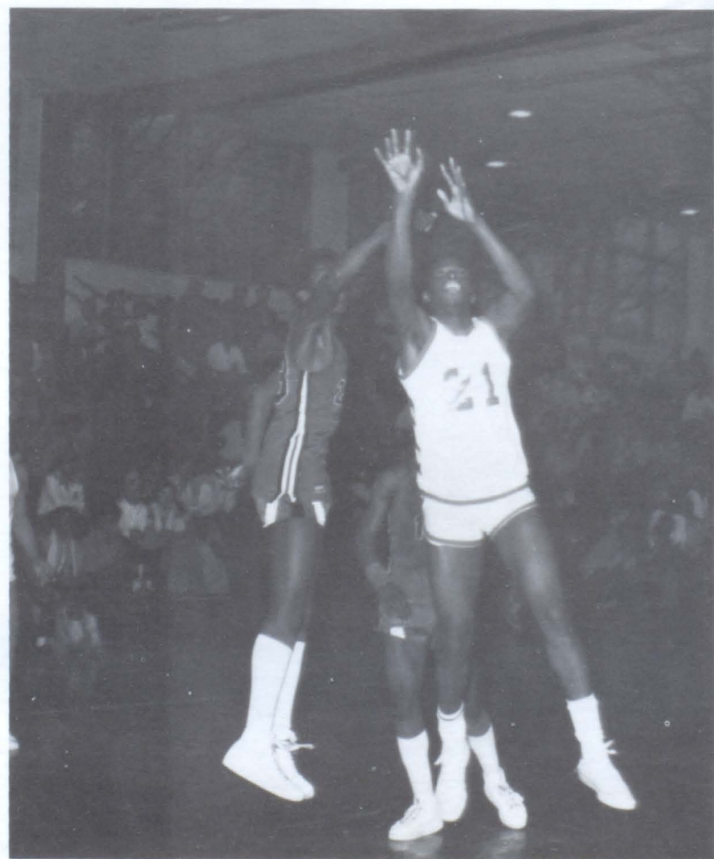

"Two, Two, Two!"

"The team is in a huddle, the coach bows his head, they all get together, and this is what they said, 'You gotta fight, boys, you gotta fight, hey! hey! You gotta fight, boys, you gotta fight! Get that ball, and hold that ball, and don't let it go! Get that ball, and hold that ball, and don't let it go!'"

These are some of the cheers that can be heard reverberating off the walls of Clinton Place Junior High where all our home games are played, (above): they shout, "Two, Kyle, two!" as Kyle Melton (opposite page) rounds in for a pass to the Big E, Everett Banks. The crowd goes wild as Eric Bryant (right) sinks a deuce.

Coach Artie Johnson (inset, opposite page) said of the loss of the Plainfield game and therefore the battle for Regional 4 Championship: "I'm proud of the way my kids hung in there and didn't quit." In that competition, Jenkins had three personal fouls and two points in the first half, and 11 in the second. James Dadds hit 19 points, followed by 11 from Reggie Golden.

Forfeits And Failures: No Guts, No Glory

The 1979-80 Wrestling season for the Weequahic Indians started with two strikes against it. WHS did not participate in the sport for two years — the reason? The team did not have a coach. Two weeks after the 1979-80 season officially started, the team appealed to Mr. William Zupnik to act as coach. He accepted, and he, along with Coach Vernon Richardson of Kean College put together a highly spirited and competitive team. But it was a discouraging season. We lost to Malcolm X. Shabazz by a narrow margin and then we had a bad tie with Central. As the season progressed we lost the remaining four dual matches to Montgomery, East Side, Barringer, and West Side and in the process lost quite a few wrestlers. Some left because of illness. Others just quit. On Saturday, February 16th, WHS went to Shabazz to participate in the city championship. Only five people wrestled in this event. Angelo Kennon won 1st place at 129 lbs. His record for the season was 8 wins, 0 losses. He won a trophy from The Board of Education and will receive the "Most Valuable Player" award at WHS. Dion Shaw won 3rd place at 108 lbs.

In the City Meet, WHS finished dead last, mainly due to forfeits. We did not have 7 wrestlers to compete against the other city teams. Coach Zupnik is looking for a large turnout next season. He recommends wrestling as a sport of discipline, courage, and a lot of hard work. Throw in a little sweat and effort, besides, and we'll have an unbeatable team.

We're Next!

The Class of '81 is quite lucky to have two of the most energetic teachers at WHS as their advisors. Mrs. Mary Marshall and Mr. Nathan Michaels come to us by way of West Kinney Junior High and we are mighty glad to have them! "The purpose of the organization is to provide juniors with academic and social experiences that would enhance their leadership qualities and provide them with tools to combat the responsibilities of young adulthood," said Mrs. Marshall. Some of the programs under the auspices of the Junior Class are: The Olympic Games: Juniors vs Seniors; Candy Sales, Encounter Weekend at Thunder Mountain, Layton, NJ; Junior Spring Dance, Junior Weekend at Downingtown, PA, Scholarship Awards Assembly; and the Skating Disco (see pages 144 and 145).

If the energy output of this Junior Class carries over to their senior year, they'll be right — they'll be next — next to meet the twenty-first century, head-on, "kicking, fighting, screaming!"

All The News That's Fit To Print

"When is the Calumet comin' out?" seemed to be the question on everyone's mind. Many people voiced it. It was a difficult year all the way round regarding obtaining advisors for extra-curricular activities. The Calumet was left without an advisor when Mr. David Fisher resigned the position.

The activities vice-principal, Mr. Meadows, was in a pinch for an advisor to the school newspaper. Finally, Mr. Ogens and Mr. Dennebaum (both of the Industrial Arts Dept.) accepted the position. The first issue finally arrived in January, much to everyone's joy (and some's tribulation).

The Calumet has always had the reputation of printing whatever is newsworthy, no matter how controversial. The tradition continues...

A Yearbook Is Forever

It isn't easy. The newly selected Legend Staff found this out at the very beginning. As a matter of fact, there were several lessons to be learned. Everyone will not always cooperate in what is supposed to be a cooperative adventure. If anything can go wrong, it will (Murphy's law). Not everyone believes that a yearbook is forever, in fact, they may take steps to thwart your efforts. To name a few. The most important lesson learned is how to overcome the obstacles — and this the staff did admirably. From September to March 15th, the yearbook was an every day affair. Distributing, collecting, managing, selecting . . . the list goes on. Working on the yearbook was the most rewarding experience that the staff has had at WHS, they admit, even though it wasn't easy. The 1980 edition of the Legend has more pages than past editions, but not as much color due to increasing costs. As you can see, we have expanded in some areas, and eliminated in others. Each year is a different year, and The Legend seeks to bring to the fore the most important in relation to the school.

Editor Carolyn Dillard works closely with Miss Scott every day in all matters concerning the yearbook. (above): Miss Scott checks Top Twenty Information with Carolyn. Editors Madelyn Jay and Cathay Davis (opposite page, top) duties were various, ranging from checking in prints, managing money, typing, and organizing fund raising events. In essence, we had two sports editors: Elwood Letterlough and Michael Dawson (pictured) Confirming information with the Guidance Department, Literary editor Crystal Ryans (above) talks with Mr. Feldberg.

Meeting The Challenge Of The 21st Century

Parting words from the Senior Class Prefect

There has been a lot of talk about the 21st Century. Scientists, fiction writers, skeptics, optimists — are all speculating about how it's going to be in the year 2000. 1984 by George Orwell is still a best seller (first published in 1949). So you see . . . people have been speculating for a long time. But we're getting closer. Class of '80. It's more than just a question of readiness and preparation. Are we "psyched" for the 21st Century? Are our minds "together?" At the time of our graduation, the world is not at peace; hostages are being held in Iran, in Columbia; the Russians have invaded Afghanistan and literally held its people hostage. Suddenly, the word "hostage" has taken on a new meaning. Are you going to be held hostage by your own lack of knowledge? of skills? of readiness? I think not. We have been a good class and good things are expected of us. Let's forge forward into the unknown future, secure in the knowledge that whatever's there, won't catch us napping. I have enjoyed very much serving as your senior class prefect.

Looking Forward to 2000,

It has truly been a joy working with you, the Senior class of 1980. You mark a forthcoming year of growth and prepared citizens. The 21st Century is coming and you are going strong. I know you'll be ready to meet the challenge. I sincerely hope your years at WHS have been fruitful and challenging, and that your education has been enough to get you THERE from HERE. Remember you are the stars of the grand Olympics and know that you will win world competition and aggression — moreso than you have ever known before. I'll be back for our 20th reunion in the year 2000; let us meet again.

Twenty-Two Academic Stars

This year the Legend spotlights twenty-two seniors who have excelled scholastically. Numbers one and two in the class pictures are on pages 164 and 165. Donny Watts is considering Livingston College and Fairleigh Dickerson at which to study communication. An outstanding baseball player, if he doesn't make it in broadcasting, Donny wants to be a pro-baseball player. Melenease Wilcox plans a career in Zoology or Pediatrics and plans to study at Drew U. Off to Howard U. in Washington, D.C. are Crystal Ryans and Kassandra Smith. Crystal to study Broadcast Management and Kassandra to major in Business Administration. The various colleges of Rutgers can expect Gwen Henderson, Francina Dail, Kathy Holloman, Carl Carpenter, Leasonia Kelly, and Ibn Wright. Ibn will pursue a career in medicine, Gwen in medical technology, Leasonia in law, Kathy in Medical Technology, also, Francina in business, and Carl in Engineering.
